FIGHTING BREAKS OUT ON U.N. FLOOR

Adlai Rips Russ Move On Congo

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson today denounced the Soviet Union's latest Congo move as a "declaration of war against the United Nations.

The United States, he said, does not intend to stand by idly while others cause trouble in the Congo.

Stevenson addressed a tense meeting of the U.N. Security Council which was disrupted by the worst public demonstration in the history of the world organization. It took 15 minutes to clear the public galleries and restore order.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin replied he failed to find in Stevenson's speech any indication that the Kennedy administration had changed the U.S. attitude on the Congo. President John F. Kennedy, Zorin said, seemed to be following the policies which had brought about dire consequences in the strife-torn African country.

The demonstrators, about 10 Negro supporters of slain Congolese leader Patrice Lumumba, forced their way into the galleries through a back door and interrupted Stevenson's speech with shouts of "vive Lumumba." Fighting broke out when the guards tried to expel the demonstrators.

The turmoil was so great that the galleries were ordered cleared.

The fighting continued outside the Security Council galleries in a third-floor corridor. Most of the demonstrators were American Negroes.

Stevenson called the manifestation "obviously organized."

He spoke out firmly against a Soviet resolution calling for the withdrawal of U.N. forces from the Congo within one month. The Security Council, he said, must rally its strength behind Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold to prevent any weakening of the U.N. role.

"Does this council favor abandoning security for insecurity and anarchy?" he asked. "Does the Soviet government really want Africans to kill Africans? The United States does not and it devoutly hopes the Soviet Union does not."

He said of the Soviet resolution:

"This resolution is a declaration of war on the United Nations and on the principle of international action in behalf of peace."

Turning to the Soviet attack on Hammarskjold, the U.S. ambassador said:

"To attempt to discredit the United Nations and the secretary-general would not only wreck the U.N. mission in the Congo but would dangerously weaken the United Nations itself."

73 Die In Belgian Air Crash; U.S. Skating Team Perishes

Jetliner Carries 49 Americans To Death

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—Forty-nine Americans, including the entire U.S. figure skating team perished today in the flaming crash of a Sabena Belgian Airline jet. In all, the crash of the American-built Boeing 707 brought death to 73 persons.

Disaster struck at 10:05 a.m. as the five-million-dollar plane, its engines suddenly sounding odd, sought a landing in bright sunshine after a flight from New York.

The huge plane slammed to earth beside a woods three miles north of Brussels International Airport and went up in flames fed by fuel oil as the tanks exploded.

All 61 passengers and the crew of 11 died. A Belgian farmer tilling his cabbage patch was struck and killed.

In addition to the Americans, the plane carried passengers of Belgian, French, German, Canadian, Swiss and Nicaraguan extraction. All the crew members were Belgians.

SKATING CHAMPION

Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen, 49, of Winchester, Mass., nine times the U.S. figure skating champion, was killed along with two daughters who were members of the current team. The girls were Laurence Owen, 16, and Maribel Owen, 20. Mrs. Owen last weekend had seen Laurence win the North American championships at Philadelphia.

Mrs. Owen and coach Deane McMinn of Lomita (Los Angeles County), were accompanying the 18-member U.S. team to world figure skating championships in Prague, Czechslovakia.

The Boeing crashed in a small pond and started burning almost at once. Fire engines previously alerted because of its erratic behavior screamed toward the scene, but arrived only in time to check the spread of fire.

OTHER ON TEAM

In addition to the two Owen girls, the members of the U.S. skating team were Steffi Westerfield, Gregory Kelley and Bill and Laurie Hickox, all of Colorado Springs, Colo.; Bradley Lord and Dudley Richards of Boston; Donna Lee Carrier, Diane Sherbloom and Roger Campbell of Los Angeles; Rhodie Michelson, Long Beach, Calif.; Douglas Ramsay, Detroit; Ray and Ila Rae Hadley, Seattle; Larry Pierce, Indianapolis, and Bob and Pat Dineen, New York. (See story on sports, page 20.)

The plane circled the field a time or two. The undercarriage was lowered, then was retracted. Then the plane turned and fell.

ERWIN WALKER

Slayer's Sane, Doctors Tell Marin Court

Erwin (Machine Gun) Walker, 43, who has been under sentence of death longer than was the late Caryl Chessman, is now sane and ready to take a gamble between the gas chamber and a governor's commutation, according to psychiatrists' testimony today in Marin Superior Court.

Dr. Walter Rapaport of Agnews State Hospital, Dr. Joseph P. Gutstadt of San Rafael, and Dr. David Schmidt of San Quentin all testified that Walker is sane.

Judge Thomas F. Keating continued the sanity hearing for two weeks because Walker's attorney, John C. Houlihan of Oakland, wants time to prepare petitions to Gov. Edmund G. Brown for commutation.

After Walker is found sane, the court will so certify to the governor, who will then set a new date for execution or com-

$2 Million Hospital Addition Approved

Architect's plans for a $2,402,000 wing and service area to be added to Marin General Hospital were unanimously approved last night by the Marin County Hospital District board.

The project, designed by Carmel architect Robert Stanton, will be financed by an anonymous donation of one-half-million dollars, a one-half-million-dollar grant from the William Babcock Memorial Endowment and $1,486,374 in state and federal funds.

YEARS OF PLANNING

Acceptance of the plans culminated six years of planning by the architectural firm.

Only hurdle remaining before bids can be called is a few "minor technical details" to be settled with the state department of health, according to Stanton. The architect said he expected bids to go out by the first of next week.

The board set March 28 at 8 p.m. as the time for opening bids.

The additional construction will increase the normal capacity of the hospital from its present 104 beds capacity to 220. In emergencies such as epidemics, Stanton said, the added space would permit a legal maximum installation of 256 beds.

CONVERSION DUE

Construction of the four-story service area on what is now a parking lot on the west side of the hospital will greatly increase the working area by permitting conversion of storage rooms into functional areas, Stanton said.

The basement of the new five-level wing on the east end of the existing building will include a dining room, scullery, storage space and machine room. Added to the present basement space will be a boiler room, nurses' lockers, linen supply room, linen rooms and an enlarged laundry.

On the first floor of the addition, plans call for a cafeteria, lobby, business offices, doctors' library and lounge, a resident physician's bedroom, three admission rooms, waiting and emergency rooms, children's waiting room and a Pink Ladies' gift shop.

Added to the present first floor level will be a business office, pharmacy, record room, psychotherapy room, radio isotope room, radiographic room adjoining the present fracture room, remodeled X-ray room and remodeled coffee shop.

Second floor plans call for a

Fiscal Chief Quits Post In Mill Valley

Mill Valley Fiscal Director John Hoopingarner announced today he will resign March 1 to become accountant at Irwin Memorial Blood Bank in San Francisco.

Hoopingarner, who would have been with the city six years in April, said he is leaving because of "disparity in point of view," presumably with the city council's 3-2 vote Jan. 4 which required him to take an examination for the financial director job.

At that time, Hoopingarner had been acting fiscal director for about five months, one month short of the probationary period. By the city's new personnel policy, Hoopingarner was to be the first to take an examination for the position.

The new policy affected Hoopingarner since his job title was changed by the council to finance director in a "streamlining" of the city's accounting procedures.

Hoopingarner, who lives at 7 Cottage Avenue, has resided in Mill Valley 13 years. He said today he has not decided whether he will still reside in the city.

MARIN EXPECTS A PAUSE IN WET WEATHER

A pause in the damp weather is expected in Marin County.

The Weather Bureau predicts the skies to clear tonight in Northern and Central California with tomorrow expected to be fair.

Rain sprinkled over Marin County last night and this morning. San Rafael showed the heaviest rainfall up to noon today with .59 of an inch. In Woodacre, .27 of an inch fell from 5 p.m. yesterday to 10 a.m. today. San Anselmo reported .23 of an inch and Fairfax .25 of an inch for the 24-hour period up to 9 p.m. today.

Other figures from this morning's rain were .23 in Novato, .35 in Belvedere and Mill Valley, .34 in Tamalpais Valley, .32 in Sausalito and .29 at Chevy Chase, Larkspur.

Goldberg Predicts Rise In Jobless

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg estimated today that three million more Americans will suffer long-term unemployment in the next 13 months, and urged Congress to pass swiftly President John F. Kennedy's bill to extend jobless benefits.

Goldberg testified before the House Ways and Means Committee.

Mobs Attack Embassies In Egypt, Poland

LONDON (AP)—Belgium's embassies in Cairo, Egypt and Warsaw, Poland, were attacked today by mobs protesting the death of deposed Congo Premier Patrice Lumumba. In all, five Belgian embassies have been assaulted in world capitals in the past three days.

The embassy in Cairo was set afire today. Excited African students smashed windows, threw files and papers into the streets and then danced war dances.

The mob then surged around the corner and stoned the U. S. and British embassies. Police dispersed the crowd with bamboo batons. Neither embassy suffered serious damage.

At Warsaw, about a dozen young toughs fought their way into the first floor of the Belgian Embassy and roughed up the personnel. Belgian officials told newsmen the Polish police stood by.

Kentfield Vote On Tax Increase Set April 18

Kentfield School District residents will go to the polls April 18 to vote on a 50-cent increase in the general purpose tax rate for an indefinite term.

The proposal if approved, would boost the current levy of $1.75 per $100 of assessed valuation to $2.25. Residents also now pay an additional 40 cents in override taxes for special purposes. This would not be affected by outcome of the election.

District trustees called for the tax rate election last night and pledged they would not go beyond a $2 general purpose levy for 1961-62.

The 50-cent increase proposal is 25 cents more than was first considered. Curriculum projects under study "without question" will cost more money, Supt. Harold R. Depue said.

The district staff now has under study proposals for including foreign language and economic education in the curriculum.

The $1.75 maximum was authorized by voters in May 1957.

The tax increase will provide funds only for the educational program, DePue said. A meeting to organize a campaign for the increase will be held at 8 p.m. Monday at Wolfe Grade School.

Stolen Novato Safe, 33 Cents Recovered

A safe stolen from the Novato office of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. Feb. 2 was recovered yesterday, with 33 cents in change. Still missing is more than $1,800 in cash.

The safe was found by two Marin County Mosquito Abatement District employees, Norman Birse Jr. of Kentfield and John D. Rucker of Black Point, who were in the area spraying mosquito-breeding swamps. It was lying near what is known as Hale's cattle loading chute, 1.9 miles north of the city limits along the Redwood Highway.

The mosquito abatement district notified Novato PG&E manager Lee Wise at 3:45 p.m. yesterday. The safe will be sent to Sacramento for study by state criminal experts, Novato Police Chief Roy McLaren said.

The 450-pound safe was rolled out a side door of the lighted PG&E offices sometime on the night of Feb. 2, within view of Grant Avenue, Novato's main street.

Some $6,000 in non-negotiable checks were found the next morning along the southbound lanes of Highway 101 just north of the city.

Novato Council May Hike Public Works Head Salary

Novato City councilmen informally agreed last night to consider upping their price for a public works director.

Councilmen agreed to meet at a.m Sunday for private interviews with two men being considered for the post.

The council has set a $675 monthly salary figure for the director. One of the two registered engineer to be interviewed has said he would not start at less than $709 monthly (second step on the city salary scale). The other asks $782 monthly (fourth step).

Councilmen agreed "to see what we get for the price." Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva voted against the motion to interview the men and consider the salary hikes. The city now has a contract with the county for public works service to June 30.

Planners Hear Protests Over Duplex Plea

Angered property owners last night protested proposed rezoning of 19 lots between Bayo Vista Way and Scenic Avenue at a public hearing before the San Rafael Planning Commission.

Marin County Abstract and Title Co. has asked for rezoning from single-family to duplex.

Developer Edward Halperin of Fairfax has planned 14 duplexes and five single-family homes for the hillside lots north of Miracle Mile.

PETITION SENT

Morrison sent a 58-signature petition against the rezoning to the planners last week, and submitted another petition with 13 signatures but no addresses last night. Six letters were received against the application.

The protesting property owners charge rezoning would be a breach of faith by the city since they bought while the area was zoned for single-family homes, and that duplexes would create traffic congestion and bring about dangerous slide conditions by cutting into the hillsides.

Phillip Lygren, San Rafael engineer for the project, argued that there are already duplexes and apartment houses in the area.

The second public hearing will be held on Feb. 28.

PUBLIC HEARING

No-protest public hearings were held on developer William Parnow's application for rezoning the 30-acre Cypress Point annexation just south of Villa Real from unclassified to single-family residential, and an amendment which would give city planners architectural control over every new building in the city except single-family homes and duplexes. Second hearings on both will be held on Feb. 28.

Also during the four-hour meeting last night the five commissioners (Chairman Pat Hetherton and Commissioner Carl Brown were absent) granted radio station KTIM a use permit for a 50-foot pole and small equipment shed for frequency modulation transmission on the crest of Chula Vista Drive. The permit was granted for five years.

Commissioners will make a field trip to the proposed 45-lot Dominican Heights Unit 2 tomorrow to view a realigned street which is proposed at a 25 per cent grade. They postponed action on a revised tentative subdivision map for the area, located northwest of Dominican College, until Feb. 28.

Directors Approve Pipeline Bonds Sale

Directors of the North Marin Water District, at a special meeting last night, agreed to sale of $1,500,000 worth of bonds to finance the Russian River pipeline and location improvements.

Bids will be opened March 7 for sale of the bonds, to mature in 30 years. The bonds are part of a $3,790,000 bond issue approved by district voters.

Brown scored only one touchdown in its first four games this fall, then trounced Rhode Island, 36-14.

Boy Scouts Planning Court Of Honor

A Court of Honor will be staged by Boy Scout Troop 59 at the Greenbrae School today at 8 p.m., it was announced today by Scoutmaster James Egger.

Five patrols of the troop will be competing for troop advancement honors, the winner of which will be announced at the court.

IN NOVATO DISTRICT

Study Brings Hope Of Teacher Pay Hike

A financial and student population report from the Novato Unified School District last night indicated Novato teachers may get a raise in pay.

But Supt. W. J. J. Smith was careful to point out that the figures are preliminary, depend on state and federal legislation which means funds for the district, and on tax returns and district growth. He reiterated the "maybe" stand of the board, saying the district just might not have the funds.

John Weston, head of the Novato Teacher Assn. committee which has asked for a new pay scale, pushed again and again for a board opinion last night.

Instead, board members agreed to a special session at 8 p.m. next Tuesday in the district office at Seventh and Grant Streets, to discuss salaries.

A detailed report on projected district finances and pupil enrollment, made by Smith, was presented to the board last night. Board members asked for more time to study it.

The report noted that according to various computations concerning school finances, $47,613 might be available for salary increases and added teachers. The salary scale proposed by teachers would need $113,209 for the increase alone.

Total cost of teacher staff, principals, experience raises needed for the next school year, administrative personnel, nursing and guidance personnel, might bring salary costs to $1,149,759, the report said.

Total budget for the district for the 1961-62 school year was estimated at $1,803,200.

School Board Moves To Get Novato Site

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night moved to condemn 2.7 acres of land southwest of Novato High School for a future elementary school site.

It is approximately the same land for which trustees refused to pay $55,000 for four acres in May, 1960, saying the price was too high.

The 13 lots now considered are owned by Pomoway Corp. and a title company, represented by San Rafael attorney Phillip Kennedy. They would cost the district $78,000 to $84,000, Supt. W. J. J. Smith said. He said negotiation on purchase will continue.

The decision last night came after discussion of other sites being considered by the board for the kindergarten to sixth grade school which ultimately would house 400 to 450 youngsters.

The site is part of Novato Hills Unit One and two subdivisions on which a final map has been filed but no construction begun. If it were used for a school, the district would also take five acres from the present 45-acre high school site for the elementary school.

Trustees also agreed to look for a school site west of Novato to prepare for expected residential development in the area.

Zoning Plea Delayed

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night postponed to its Feb. 28 meeting the zoning of the Bon Air Road addition property recently annexed to the city and a request for a use permit for a medical-dental building at Bon Air Road and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard. Commissioners James Chesnut and John Vandall were absent.

Chamber Quits Peninsula Unit In Tiburon

The Tiburon Peninsula Chamber of Commerce voted 10-to-5 yesterday to withdraw from the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council "so the chamber may establish an entity of its own."

The action climaxed one and one-half hours of intense debate in which president William S. Johnstone had to ask for the vote six times because of the hubbub.

It started when real estate broker Francis L. Newton said the council's incorporation study movement started "out of fright and fear and stems from political motives" and asked that the chamber withdraw.

The coordinating council's action was defended by Fred C. Hannahs and William H. Rafter, who said "the time is ripe for the peninsula to think about securing services that they are now not able to get."

"As an incorporated area we can say "no" if they want to put the San Francisco-Tiburon bridge through here . . . we have little influence if we are unincorporated," declared Rafter.

Newton asserted interests of the chamber and the council "are not running parallel any more."

Sterling said he didn't like the council's "taxes be damned" approach.

Hannahs suggested the chamber contribute equally to both the incorporation survey and a study of annexation to Belvedere. But discussion of that was postponed to the March meeting.

Johnstone reported the memorial fishing platform fund had $588 in contributions and a pledge of $1,750 from Tiburon property owner Fred G. Zelinsky. "We have $1,500 more to raise," he said. Warren Callister was appointed chairman of a committee to raise funds.

Members voted to have the chamber join the Marin Visitors Bureau for $20 a year.

Bagley Measure Would Extend Daylight Time

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Marin-Sonoma Assemblymen William T. Bagley moved to extend daylight savings time and lashed out at Gov. Edmund G. Brown's appointments today as he tossed eight new bills in the legislative hopper.

One of the measures would extend the end of daylight saving time from the last Sunday in September to the last Sunday in October. This would put California in conformity with the east coast.

Another would alter membership of the state industrial accident commission to provide equal representation on it for industry, labor and the public.

There has "always been a gentlemen's agreement as to equal representation," Bagley declared. But Gov. Brown has breached this agreement by appointing labor-acclimated persons to the exclusion of almost everyone else, he charged. "Therefore corrective legislative has been a necessity."

The bill also alters the makeup of the commission so that the chairman would be appointed at the start of the governor's term. It changes the terms of the other members and requires the governor to designate which panel of the commission a member is to serve on at the time of appointment.

Bagley also moved to punish flagrant violators of traffic regulations. One of his bills would require an arrested person to be taken before a magistrate without unnecessary delay when he is charged with exceeding the speed limit by 25 miles per hour or more, fails to exhibit a driver's license or other identity evidence, refuses to give written promise to appear in court or demands an immediate appearance.

Bagley's other bills would:

1. Increase from 25 to 50 per cent the amount of assets of a county or city retirement system which may be invested in real property.

2. Relax the ban on political activities of state employees in regards to ballot measures.

3. Extend for two years authority for redevelopment agencies to enter into contracts with school districts for furnishing services and facilities. A similar bill would extend for two years the rights of counties having such housing authority.

4. Extend for two years existing law regarding authority of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors over the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation Districts.

Sen. McCarthy Expands Bill To Include All Bond Votes

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO—Marin Sen. John F. McCarthy today expanded his bill which would reduce the "yes" vote necessary to pass local school bond issues from two-thirds to 60 per cent.

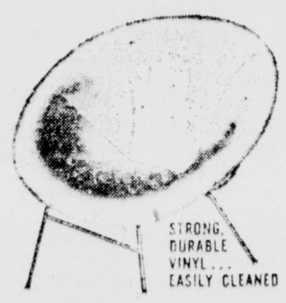

Appearing before the Senate Education Committee, McCarthy ammended his bill so it would include all bond issues now requiring a two-thirds vote.

Yesterday McCarthy was successful in getting a "do-pass" recommendation from the senate classification committee on his resolution urging Congress to provide federal assistance for mass public transportation in metropolitan areas. The bill now goes to the senate floor.

A McCarthy bill which would remove the $25 per meeting fee paid Golden Gate Bridge directors was not acted upon by the transportation committee yesterday although it had been scheduled. McCarthy said he would take it up later.

Northwestern end El Kimbrough led the Big Ten gridmen in pass receiving with 21 receptions for 321 yards and two touchdowns.

GOVERNORS, McCARTHY MEET

Massachusetts' Republican Gov. John A. Volpe (center) received a warm reception from Gov. Edmund G. Brown (left) yesterday in Sacramento. At right is Sen. John F. Council Wants To Know Cost Of Tree Plan

Trees in concrete containers may sprout along the bare sidewalks of San Anselmo's downtown area within the next month or two.

City councilmen last night saw colored slides of some districts in Oakland have done to bring greenery to the bare pavement and sidewalks and decided it would be a good thing for San Anselmo. However, they want City Administrator Douglas Flautt to learn from Oakland officials what the cost would be for maintaining potted trees once they are installed. As soon as Flautt has the information, Mayor William Franchini said he would call a special meeting to decide.

Jack Phillips, president of the San Anselmo Chamber of Commerce, showed the colored slides. He estimated the cost would be about $50 per tree, including decorative concrete tubs. He estimated San Anselmo streets could use 45 to 50 potted trees.

William Maier, real estate man, announced about 11 merchants on "Real Estate Row" across Sir Francis Drake Boulevard from the bus depot are willing to pay for five or six trees in their block. He said the 11 merchants are ready to proceed, regardless of whether the rest of the town goes ahead.

City fathers said they are "impressed" by the idea but want more information on maintenance cost before proceeding.

GROUP DELAYS ACTION ON SECRECY LAW

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — An Assembly committee has failed to approve a bill to tighten up the anti-secrecy in government law.

The committee on governmental efficiency decided yesterday to postpone action for two weeks on a proposal by Assemblyman Frank Luckel (R-San Diego). During that time, members of the committee will attempt to rewrite the bill to meet objections raised by the League of Califorina Cities.

Backed by the California Newspaper Publishers Assn., the Luckel measure would make it a misdemeanor for local agencies such as city councils or boards of supervisors to violate the Ralph M. Brown secrecy in government law.

Richard Carpenter of the League of California Cities was the only witness against the bill.

Carpenter said the Luckel bill would prohibit the city attorney from meeting with councilmen to advise them on a settlement of a damage suit or would prevent a closed door discussion of personnel matters or condemnation of land for a city project.

Library Bid Accepted By Hub Council

San Anselmo's city library will get an expansion and remodeling job for $52,100 within the next three or four months.

Inland Pacific Construction Co. of San Francisco won the contract last night, underbidding six other contractors. Work will start within 10 days and the job should be completed in about 90 days.

A modern concrete and glass structure will go up in the parking lot to the rear of the present library. The new wing will house a main reading room and two smaller study areas plus new book stacks.

The cost of expansion is about $2,000 lower than the $54,000 estimated by architects Adrian F. Malone of San Anselmo and Roger Hooper of Ross.

Other bids submitted for the job were: L. E. Weisenburg Jr., San Rafael, $53,853; H. D. Gray, San Francisco, $54,392; Don Presco, San Rafael, $54,341; Larkins Construction Co., Kentfield, $56,458; Wilco Construction Co., San Francisco, $59,630, and Robert J. Smiley, San Anselmo, $64,772.

City councilmen last night also called for bids on repair and installation of storm drains on San Anselmo Avenue. Cost is estimated at $5,825.

PUBLIC SERVICE, TOO

Investment Source Seen In Urban Plan

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—The president of the U. S. Savings and Loan League today called the field of urban renewal a "tremendous untapped source" for home mortgage investments.

G. Elwood Knapp of Pittsburgh, Pa., also termed it an opportunity for great public service to the nation.

Knapp, addressing the annual management conference of the California Savings and Loan League, said participation in urban renewal programs would not only help savings associations keep their lending funds invested but would have political implications that should not be overlooked.

"Bear in mind," Knapp said, "that today we live in an urbanized society. The political balance of power is in our cities, and this new administration owes its election to the vote of the cities. There are quite a number of people in the new adminstration who are determined that something be done about the problem of physical deterioration in our cities."

A UCLA economist predicted earlier that the next boom in housing may be as far away as 1965. Dr. Leo Greber said this was because the postwar demand for homes has now been met and the majority of American consumers are well housed.

Dr. Greber told a Tuesday session of the conference:

"If our analysis of the general housing market is correct, you may be faced with increasingly difficult problems in placing your growing funds in the ordinary home mortgage market without excessive competition and credit standards so low that you would not wish to contemplate them."

It might be wiser, he suggested, to seek other lending opportunities while awaiting a strong posiiton in the home mortgage market.

"The financing of special-purpose housing and urban renewal projects may well be an answer to this problem," he added.

San Anselmo Girl On Magazine Board

Jeannette Miller of 36 Hawthorne Avenue, San Anselmo, a sophomore at College of Marin, has been chosen to be a member of Mademoiselle magazine's 1961 national college board.

She is one of 842 students at 330 colleges over the country who will report to Mademoiselle this year on college life and the college scene.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

THE ASSEMBLY

Bills introduced:

Animals — Prohibits artificially coloring and then selling live rabbits and fowl, Cameron (D-Whittier).

Needy—Increases maximum personal property that can be held by aid to needy children recipients from $600 to $1,200, Dills (D-Gardena).

Autos — Prohibits drivers from placing on windshield material that obstructs view, Dahl (D-Piedmont).

Schools — Provides that remaining members of school boards fill vacancies on board instead of superintendent, Winton. Permits schools to suspend students for more than 100 days instead of more than two weeks, Winton.

Unemployed — Provides for state aid to dependent children of needy unemployed, Burton.

Voting — Requires voters to prove their ability to read English when they register, rather than at the polling place, Cunningham (D-Ventura). Prevents anyone except precinct officials and voters signing the register from sitting at precinct officials' table, Cunningham.

Bill approved by committee:

Gasoline — Regulates advertising of octane ratings, Allen (R-Los Gatos); Manufacturing, Oil and Mining Industry Committee.

THE SENATE

Bills introduced:

Parole — Authorizes parole agent to jail parolee on his belief that parolee violated parole terms, Arnold (D-Susanville).

Movers—Creates state board of household carriers to give permits to movers, Dolwig (R-Redwood City).

Scholarship — Creates five-million-dollar state "self-help" scholarship fund to pay high school students for summer forestry work, Geddes (D-Napa).

Lawyers—Makes Communist Party membership grounds for disbarment of attorneys, Shaw (D-Ontario).

Mental — Increases state grants for local mental health clinics, Short (D-Stockton). Increases from $100 to $130 maximum state grant per month to patients in private homes, Cameron (D-Auburn).

Children — Increases from three to six months time child must be deprived of parental support because of separation, divorce or desertion to be eligible for aid to needy children funds, Williams (R-Porterville). Authorizes court to order forfeit of ANC aid for six months if person convicted of unlawful receipt of funds, Williams. Subjects to theft penalties anyone getting more ANC aid than entitled to, Williams.

Sue — Allow government agencies to be sued for acts of their own agencies or employees, Shaw.

Transportation—Eases State Public Utility Commission regulation of common carriers, Dolwig.

Resolutions introduced:

Farm—Asks state study of migrant family housing needs, Byrne (R-Chico).

Television — Asks president and Congress to either enact them to improve quality of TV programs or allow states to do it, Shaw.

Bill approved by committee:

Optometry — Permits any five optometrists to ask for an injunction against a fellow practitioner who violates state regulations, Cobey (D-Merced); Business and Professions Committee.

GOP Assails Brown Over Fraud Views

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Assembly Republicans believe Gov. Edmund G. Brown is a Johnny-come-lately in the battle against 10 per center real estate frauds.

Brown announced a four-point drive against 10 per centers yesterday and told a news conference he "was deeply concerned" over the actions of dealers in second trust deeds.

Assemblyman Bruce Regan (R-Pasadena), acting as spokeman for the GOP lower chamber yesterday, indicated a Republican belief that Brown's move came much too late.

"Actually, if existing legislation on this subject had been promptly applied by the governor's office and Atty. Gen. (Stanley) Mosk, investors in this state would have been saved millions of dollars and the problem today would be largely solved," he said.

In other action at yesterday's caucus, the GOP announced opposition to a proposal by Assemblyman Jesse Unruh (D-Los Angeles) to require absentee ballots be submitted five days before election day.

Meanwhile, Democrats in a caucus went on record backing up Democrat Brown's fiscal program for 1961-62 as "the best possible program" to maintain fiscal responsibility and stability in California.

The Democrats also commended Brown for backing a proposal to eliminate the sales tax on prescription drugs and said "the tax was onerous and oppressive in its inception."

Sacajawea, the Indian girl guide of the Lewis and Clark expedition, is buried in Lander, Wyo.

Directors Eye New Novato Sewage Plant

Directors of the Novato Sanitary District are considering the possibility of building a new treatment plant to serve an 1,100-acre area north of the city planned for residential development.

Directors, meeting Monday night, indicated they would consider construction of a "simple" first section of a plant, to be financed by developers Andrew Talbot of San Francisco and associates. It would serve the 150 homes expected to be the first part of development.

The area is expected to be annexed to the sanitary district, District Manager A. H. Tresch said. The plant would be turned over to the district with furher expansion to be financed through connection fees in the area.

Directors also discussed with Richard West, developer of the lagoon-type Bel Marin Keys just north of Hamilton Air Force Base, the type of pipeline needed for the area.

Directors approved a $11,564 bid for construction of a new sewer line in the city. Low bidder, Oakland Sewer Construction Co. is expected to begin work in about 10 days on the 1,282 feet of line. The 10-inch pipeline will extend from Grant and First streets to Diablo and Court streets.

The board also approved five annexations to the district: Five acres on Tamalpais Avenue near Center Road; a lot on Wilson Avenue near the Millwood subdivision; about two acres on Sun Lane; about an acre of the Latter-Day Saints Church; about 25-30 acres of subdivision property southwest of Novato High School.

Colorado has 1,064 mountain peaks towering 10,000 feet or more.

ROBERT A. SCALAPINO
First in lecture series

Series Starts Tonight At Marin College

The College of Marin will initiate a campus concert and lecture series tonight with a talk by Dr. Robert A. Scalapino, professor of political science at University of California at 8 o'clock in Olney Hall.

His topic will be, "The Political Crisis in the Far East."

During the spring semester, a monthly program of information or entertainment will be presented. A performance by the East Bay Opera Workshop is tentatively scheduled for March.

Scalapino is a widely traveled observer, lecturer, writer and consultant on the Far East.

He has been a member of the University of California faculty since 1949. He earned his doctorate degree and was an instructor at Harvard University before coming to U.C. He is a brother of William Scalapino, member of the College of Marin faculty.

Tickets will be available at the door.

IN NEPAL FLIGHTS

Marin Woman's Son To Pilot Elizabeth

Peter John Langley, son of Mrs. A. Langley of San Rafael, will pilot Her Majesty Elizabeth II during her visit late this month in Nepal.

Squadron Leader Langley, a Royal Air Force flier since 1940, has been ordered from his base on the island of Malta in the Mediterranean to Nepal for the special assignment. Queen Elizabeth, now touring India and Pakistan, will be in the tiny Himalayan kingdom—also a part of her vast domains—between Feb. 26 and March 1.

The topography of Nepal is largely vertical. There are few air strips, and these few have short runways. So the royal plane will give way for the Nepal visit to an RAF Dakotah—British version of the U.S. C-47, the air transport "workhorse" of World War II. The Dakotah requires minimum runway for landing and takeoff.

Langley, whose mother and sister Pamela have resided for four years at 11 Echo Place in San Rafael's Sun Valley, began piloting Dakotahs in that war. He flew them in Europe and in Southeast Asia, and also was among the first glider pilots in the British advance to win back Burma from the Japanese. He received the Distinguished Flying Cross for his exploits.

When the Air Ministry wanted an expert Dakotah pilot to fly Her Majesty, it tapped 34-year-old Langley for the chore.

After his assignment in Nepal, Langley is to receive two-month leave in April and May, which he expects to spend with his mother and sister in San Rafael. His sister came to the United States six years ago, his mother following a year later.

Auto Has Wreck Because Of Dog

Douglas John Gay, 35, was driving west on Novato's Alameda de la Loma at 2:30 a.m. yesterday on his way home to No. 444 when a dog ran across the street in front of his car.

Gay swerved, struck a car parked at the left in front of No. 213, and then crashed into a utility pole.

California Highway Patrol investigators credited a seat belt with saving him from more than a chin cut, for which he was treated at Novato Hospital.

Pollution Control Board Aide Asks Help In Test Of Anti-Smog Device

Now gone from Marin but still in the news is Donald A. Jensen, former county administrator who is presently executive officer of the State Motor Vehicle Pollution Control Board in Los Angeles.

Jensen has asked four auto manufacturers—American Motors, Chrysler, Ford and General Motors—for technical assistance in the drafting of test procedures for car anti-smog exhaust devices. Other advice is being sought from the U.S. Public Health Service, and Standard Oil Co. has supplied an industrial chemist.

The board has set a mid-October deadline for the approval of at least two anti-smog exhaust devices.

CONSTRUCTION will begin at once on another Edgewater Inn—but not in Marin County.

James Stockman, operator of the hostelry by the same name in Corte Madera, says his company, Transwestern Hotels, Inc., of Santa Rosa, will get the new motor inn development near the Oakland Airport under way in a few days.

The two-million-dollar project is one of the first major hotels to be built in Oakland for about 35 years. It will have 175 guest rooms and large dining, banquet and convention facilities.

FRANK GEORGE of Redwood Travel Advisors, 1344 Fourth Street, San Rafael, has been working on a special travel tour of Morocco—"fabled land where the Greeks placed the Gardens of the Hesperides," colorful Tangier with its Casbah and teeming Casablanca—for this summer.

The tour which includes many historical points of interest has been scheduled to arrive at Casablanca on Saturday, Aug. 26, and with departure from Tangier six days later. Reservations are now being taken.

EICHLER HOMES, INC. has been presented with a 1960 Award of Merit by House and Home, a national buliders' magazine.

Specifically, Eichler was honored for a home built in Sunnyvale featured in the November issue of House and Home. The same house plans, however, have been used in Terra Linda.

The article singles out for praise the four-bedroom plan with its enclosed private court, laundry facilities near the bedroom, zoning of the living room away from the rest of the house and the U-shaped kitchen located between the family and dining rooms.

SAN RAFAEL resident Theodore M. Goldbeck Jr., 277 Woodland Avenue, has been chosen to attend an orientation and sales school conducted by Provident Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Philadelphia at its home office. He is associated with the Johnston Agency of Provident Mutual in San Francisco.

REPORT from the alcoholic beverage industry says that moonshine is still with us. About 50 million gallons of the stuff were illegally produced in this country last year, some of it made at a cost of $1.25 a gallon.

Legal distillers must pay federal excise taxes of $10.50 per gallon before they can do any business at all; combined federal, state and local taxes usually run about $13.75 a gallon.

There are only about 840 revenue agents on the job to hunt down the moonshiners; not enough to bring them under control.

Loss of revenue to the government is bad enough; loss of life is worse. Bootleg liquor contains lead salts that can cause death up to a year after drinking.

Death Law Curb Asked In Nevada

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP) — A four-year moratorium on the death penalty except for certain offenders has been proposed in a bill by Assemblyman Don Crawford. (D-Washoe).

Crawford's measure would not apply to those sentenced to death for a second first degree murder, for murder-kidnapers, ex-convicts who murder, or murderers of peace officers while escaping.

Forty And Eight Unit To Hold Seafood Dinner

Members of the Marin chapter of the La Societe des 40 Hommes et Eight Chevauz (Forty and Eight Society) will hold a seafood dinner at the San Anselmo American Legion Log Cabin Saturday.

Cocktails will be served at 6:30 p.m. and dinner will start at 7 p.m. Walter E. Berta of 275 Frustuck Avenue, Fairfax, is in charge of the dinner program.

Vandals Mess Up Bon Air Home

Vandals broke into a home near Marin General Hospital Monday, feasted on beer and spaghetti, and left the place in a mess, sheriff's deputies reported.

Gunther Hagel, who operates a maintenance firm, discovered the break-in at the home of Helen Nyquist on Bon Air Road in Kentfield yesterday evening. He found two front plate glass windows broken, and rocks lying on the floor inside.

Sheriff's investigators found an empty soda bottle, a wine bottle and beer cans strewn on the floor, and sphaghetti and sardines sprayed on the floor and walls. Partially melted ice cubes lay on the floor.

Officers speculated that youngsters had eaten spaghetti, got drunk on beer and wine, and tossed the food around the house before leaving.

Fling At Freedom Will Cost A Year

San Quentin inmate Carl E. Giguiere, 35, who escaped from prison and was captured after a bullet-punctuated chase through San Rafael last Oct. 30, must serve at least an additional year for his brief fling at freedom.

Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Superior Court yesterday sentenced Giguiere to a term prescribed by law for escape and car theft. Penalty is at least a year in prison. This will run consecutively to the term Giguiere is already serving for forgery and parole violation.

Two airmen from Hamilton Air Force Base captured Giguiere after a wild chase through downtown San Rafael.

Data Processing Chief Off To Alaska Again

Arleigh Sewell, supervisor of Marin County's Data Processing Bureau, has resigned again to return to Alaska.

This was revealed late yesterday after his chief, Auditor Leon A. deLisle, went before the board of supervisors to complain bitterly that such action seemed imminent because Sewell felt "at a dead end."

"He doesn't want to go," said deLisle of a man who tried a better-paying Alaska post from June through October of 1959 but was re-instated in his work here through appeal to the board by deLisle.

DeLisle said Sewell had found the attitude of the supervisors' new finance chairman, J. Walter Blair, "very upsetting." The data processing bureau had been "forced into the position of an orphan who does not know its parents," said deLisle, although Blair's committee colleague, George Ludy, had been "excellent, splendid, not going off half-cocked."

"Mr. Blair is in the hospital," interposed Chairman William D. Fusselman.

DeLisle promised to "stay off" the subject of Blair but he made clear his view that "an impasse exists between us and the board of supervisors," adding:

"The time has come, not for Sewell but for the county government, when a decision ought to be made."

Because Blair has said of Sewell's department that "something has to be done," without clarifying just what or making more than superficial investigation of its functions, said deLisle, "I'm not able to advise Mr. Sewell or promise him anything . . . We don't know where we're going."

DeLisle said he had even heard that National Cash Register Co. had been asked to make a survey of data processing, which is done with International Business Machine Co. equipment. This "has upset us," he said. Fusselman disclaimed knowledge of any such request.

"Possibly there's been a lot of imagination on his (Sewell's) part," suggested Ludy. "Statements were made that others would have to quit when the new board went in. There's no truth to it whatever. As to Sewell, I was satisfied with what he was doing."

Sewell goes from a Marin job paying $8,820 a year to an Alaska position at $15,000 in a much higher-price area. He was paid on an $11,000 basis when he spent five months in 1959, having left a $7,600 salary.

Council Lights Up With Warm Glow As Sally Cries

The Sausalito City Council could not withstand last night the tears of Marsha Owen, dba Sally Stanford.

Dressed in black beneath a mink stole, Mrs. Owen appeared at the council meeting to plea that she turned the lighted sign atop her Valhalla Inn back on, after the council ordered it removed, because "I just wanted a light to show the people to my restaurant." She dabbed at her nose with a dainty handkerchief as she spoke.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. expressed regret the sign matter had "turned into a squabble."

The council, as Mrs. Owen sniffled, agreed the sign can stay lighted — but only until 2 a.m.—until a new $2,829 Victorian sign in the sidewalk area is lighted. Ehrlich suggested the new sign, which was erected without a building permit, be permitted to stay where it is until the city gets around to widening Bridgeway.

Sheriff Aide Charge Due Grand Jury

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos declared today he has received no information involving one of his inspectors in the Anita Venza abortion case in Belvedere.

If the district attorney has any such information, he can take it to the grand jury, the sheriff declared.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, informed of the sheriff's announcement, replied in effect: I intend to.

Garety said he intends to present to the grand jurors "several witnesses including a member of the sheriff's office who is involved and Anita Venza," convicted abortionist. Garety said it will probably be next week before he can present the case to the grand jurors.

Two Hurt As Car Skids On Bridge

Driver and passenger were both hurt when a car skidded into a bridge on Point Reyes-Petaluma Road at 11 o'clock last night.

Gordon Elwood Buden of 112 Miramar Drive, San Rafael, was going west about three miles east of Point Reyes Station when his car went into a skid at a curve, smashing into the railing of the Lagunitas Creek bridge.

Buden was thrown out of the car. He and Richard T. Johnson of 107 Bret Harte Road, San Rafael, were later treated for cuts and bruises at the Novato Hospital.

cere regret," Hoopingarner said, "that I am leaving the city family, but my wife and I both believe that the move is for the best because of the apparent disparity in point of view which has arisen. . . . I wish to emphasize that I am not leaving with hard feelings or bitterness. I can only wish the greatest of success to the city council, Mr. Almcrants (A. E. Almcrants, city manager) and all the city employees."

mute Walker's sentence to life imprisonment.

The convicted killer is taking a gamble that even though he is returned to Death Row, he will win a commutation to life imprisonment. This could mean eventual freedom.

Walker, who used stolen Army machine guns in a Southern California crime spree, was convicted of killing a highway patrolman in 1947.

He pleaded innocent by reason of insanity, but was sentenced to death. Two days before the execution date, April 15, 1949, he tried to commit suicide at San Quentin Prison. Ninety minutes before he was to die, he was found insane.

Sent to Mendocino State Hospital, he has been under psychotherapy for 13 years.

Recreation Program Date Is Changed

An adult and teen-age recreation program to be held weekly at Terra Linda High School has been changed from Tuesday to Thursday evenings.

The first session will be held tomorrow from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Included in the program, which is sponsored by the San Rafael Recreation and Parks Department, is instruction and participation in badminton and volleyball games.

HOSPITAL

major operating room adequate for open heart surgery, recovery room for patients coming out of anethesia, oxygen outlets, an "intensive care" room for patients needing around-the-clock supervision, isolation room, surgical patient rooms and a physiotherapy department.

Added treatment rooms will be placed on the existing second floor and storage space for sterile equipment will be increased three times.

New third floor plans include 44 additional bassinets for newborn babies, 21 new bedrooms accommodating 42 patients, five labor rooms, a formula room and a viewing room.

On the top floor will be a 30-bed pediatrics department, a large playroom, oxygen outlets and 14 double bedrooms for general patients as well as those under pediatric care.

Plans also include a room designed to house a cobalt bomb used in the treatment of cancer, which will be built if funds permit.

Man Who Bit Lip Off Woman Draws 3 Years Probation

Herman L. Holand, 30, San Francisco service station attendant who bit off the lower lip of his common-law wife last September, drew three years probation yesterday for battery.

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety told Judge Richard M. Sims of Marin Superior Court today that he would not oppose probation for Holland. Garety reported the woman is living with Holland again and asked the court for leniency.

Judge Sims put Holland on probation for three years

ANOTHER KOREA?

Fear Rises Over Reds' Congo View

LONDON (AP)—Western alarm mounted today as Communist support for Patrice Lumumba's political heirs in the Congo raised the fearful specter of a Korea-like war in the heart of Africa.

Banner newspapers headlines across Western Europe showed the concern at the Soviet Union's offer of "all possible assistance and support" to the Lumumbist government of Antoine Gizenga, controlling a large part of the northern Congo from headquarters in Stanleyville.

Fears were openly expressed that the United Nations attempt to prevent civil war in the Congo would collapse, that the Soviet Union and its Communist allies would supply Gitenga's forces, and that the United States and its allies would have to bulwark the Leopoldville government of President Joseph Kasavubu and Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu or see the vast territory go to Communists by default.

President Gamal Abdel Nasser's United Arab Republic last night officially recognized Gizenga's regime as the legal government of the Congo. Red China quickly lined up.

Premier Chou En-lai cabled Gizenga: "The Chinese people are deeply convinced that the Congolese people will surely turn their grief into strength and, under the leadership of your excellency and the lawful Congolese government, will fight to the end against the imperialistic bloc headed by the United States of America and in defense of the national independence of the Congo."

Ghana's President Kwame Nkrumah, always a supporter of Lumumba, lashed the United Nations for the role it played in the Congo and added: "The danger in the Congo is not so much the possibility of a civil war between Africans, but rather a colonialist war in which the colonial and imperialistic powers hide behind African puppet regimes."

Volunteer City Labor Supported

Novato Mayor Wayne Womack last night took a firm stand in favor of volunteer labor for civic jobs, in the face of a protest letter from the Marin Building and Construction Trades Council.

The letter protested painting of the Novato Police Station by a volunteer group of Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce members. The city supplied the paint.

"We must vigorously oppose this procedure as a large number of the painters' (local 83) live in Novato," said the letter. "This (building) council is well aware that your city may not have monies at this time to do all the things that they would like done; however, if you had approached the local union in regard to your predicament, I am sure they would have furnished you painters free of charge."

Answered Womack: "I would be the one to go to battle with them over civic projects." As an example, he said he would favor such volunteer work, as construction of brick fireplaces in a city park. (The city has no parks.)

Councilmen voted to acknowledge the letter without committing the city. "We've been warned," noted one councilman.

School Board Hopefuls File

Four more school board candidates have filed statements with the county superintendent of schools, bringing the total to 66 in school board races throughout the county in the April 18 elections.

William A. Niccolls of Southwood Avenue, Ross, is seeking election to the Ross School District board.

Jack L. Mengel of 469 Montecito Drive, Corte Madera, incumbent on the Larkspur District board, filed for re-election.

Lawrence I. Kramer Jr. of 558 Heather Way, Terra Linda, who listed his occupation as "administrator," is a candidate in Dixie District.

Don Jones of 319 Edgewood Avenue, Mill Valley, who teaches social studies in Pelto Junior High School in San Francisco, filed for election to the Mill Valley District board.

Electrical Machinery Employment Increases

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's electrical machinery and equipment industry showed a 7.5 per cent increase in employment last November over the same month in 1959, according to a recent report from the California Chamber of Commerce.

The chamber said that employment in November, 1960, was 172,000. This compared with 160,000 the year before.

Novato Delays Action On Gum Machine Fees

Novato city councilmen wrestled with the problems of circuses, gum machines, dances and fortune tellers last night.

At request by the Novato Kiwanis Club for waivers of the business license fee for charity gum machines and of the $300 daily circus fee for a charity show was referred to the ordinance committee and City Atty. Clark M. Palmer Jr. for a policy recommendation or possible ordinance change.

The Kiwanis had hoped to install 75 to 100 gum machines in the city, with part of the proceeds going to their scholarship and children's fund.

Hearing that the club would get 15 per cent of the profit from the machines ($1.50 to $3 yearly from each machine) councilmen noted that merchants installing the machines strictly for profit get 30 to 35 per cent.

Councilmen asked why the machines should be exempt from the business license fee of $2 per machine per year, when the operator would still make a profit.

Councilmen also postponed consideration of the club's request to back two or three circon May 28. The club would get 40 per cent of the profits. Club representatives promised there would be no gambling devices.

The councilmen approved introduction of an ordinance to require a city permit before staging a public dance. The ordinance came about because of a disturbance at a dance at the Novato Community Club which tied up police for the evening. The club did not sponsor the dance, but rented the building to dance backers.

Conviction of violation of the permit requirement could mean up to a $500 or up to six months in the county jail.

Also introduced last night was an ordinance which would prohibit "fortune telling, palmistry, phrenology, astrology . . . spiritualism." Conviction of violation would carry the same penalty as the dance ordinance.

Completes Course

Lt. Col. Stanley M. Mix of 172 Birch Avenue, Corte Madera, a member of the Army plans and organization division, has completed a radiological monitor training course for instructors at the Western Instructor Training Center, Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization, Alameda.

Cost Study Is Ordered Of Hub Redevelopment

Wilsey, Ham and Blair of Millbrae last night won the green light to go ahead with engineering and cost studies for modernizing downtown San Anselmo.

The city council voted unanimously to proceed with studies to see how much the redevelopment proposal would cost. The plan calls for a new street west of Cedar, parking lots interspersed with commercial buildings, traffic circulation, and a pedestrian mall on San Anselmo Avenue and possibly Tamalpais Avenue.

The study should be completed in June.

In other action last night, the San Anselmo council:

1. Agreed to pay former City Engineer John C. Oglesby $5,042 for past engineering services. T is the final settlement with Og by on all past bills.

2. Granted Planning Comm sioner Thomas Pring three mon leave from March through M Pring and his wife plan an exte ed trip.

3. Granted Police Officer D ald Nelson a one-month leave September. He and his wife p a trip to Germany to visit her fa ily.

4. Denied a request by Cath ine Cunningham of 279 Greenfi Avenue that the city remove large sycamore tree near her pr erty.

5. Bought a 1958 ladder tru from Pacific Gas and Electric to be used to maintain str lights, at $400. City Administra Douglas Flautt said the truck a ladder originally cost about $4,0

6. Decided to change false rest insurance coverage to a pl offered by the State Peace Offic Assn. The new plan costs the c $165 per year in premiums compared with the $404 being pa now.

CORPORATION YARD

Fairfax Seeking Bids On Building

Bids will be received by the Fairfax City Council for construction of a new corporation yard building at its meeting on March 13, it was announced at last night's council meeting.

The building will be located across the creek and behind the present one next to the firehouse.

The old building will be torn down after the new one is built, the council said.

The proposed yard will be on 40,000 sq. ft. and will be used to house city equipment.

No cost estimate was given.

The four councilmen (Rolfe M. Ockenden was absent) voted unanimously to make it illegal to park longer than an hour on the south side of Center Boulevard from Pastori Avenue 600 feet west. No parking will be permitted on the north side.

The one-hour parking law will be in effect 24 hours a day, including Sundays and holidays. Present ordinance in Fairfax makes it illegal to park in commercial zoned property in the central district of the city between 2 and 6 a.m.

The council instructed City Engineer Albert Siemer to erect street signs on the portion of Center Street affected by the law. Only parallel parking will be permitted.

In other business, the council:

1. Scheduled the June 12 meeting and meetings following that date in the upstairs portion of the firehouse at 144 Bolinas Road. Fire Chief Charles Thornton was instructed to have the future council chambers remodeled. The council must vacate its present building, which is to be demolished for expansion of the Bank of America.

2. Agreed to purchase a six foot wide bucket for street cleaning loader at a cost of $212. The present loader, five feet wide, will be interchangeable with the new one.

3. Heard a request by Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. to dig an underground trench on Bank Street southwest of Broadway. The matter was referred to Thornton.

4. Heard a report by the park and recreation committee appointing Robert E. Stout of 10 Barker Avenue, chairman for the park master plan committee.

5. Approved warrants totaling $19,166.51.

6. Adjourned until Tuesday a public hearing on zoning ordinances for the city. The hearing will be in the council chambers at 7:30 p.m.

Friday Is World Day Of Prayer

Friday will mark the 75th anniversary of the World Day of Prayer. Services will be held in two Marin Episcopal churches between 10:30 a.m. and noon.

Rev. Surjit Singh, a professor at San Francisco Theological Seminary, will be guest speaker at St. John's Episcopal Church in Ross. Mrs. W. A. Root, president of the Northern California-Northern Nevada United Church Women, will speak at St. Francis Episcopal Church in Novato on "The Greatest Power in the World."

Baby sitting service will be provided at each church.

HUB COUNCIL HIRES COMPANY TO PLAN INTERIOR DECORATION

The San Anselmo City Council last night hired an architectural firm for $50 to draw plans for repainting and refinishing the interior of the city council chambers.

Mayor William Franchini and Councilman Arthur W. Smith voted against the proposal on the premise "We can decide what color to paint the walls without hiring an architect to do it," they insisted.

But a three-man majority of the council, on motion by Councilman Carleton G. E. Little, hired architects Malone and Hooper for $50 to prepare specifications for refinishing desks and chairs and plan a color scheme for walls and curtains.

"I thought this was only for painting walls," protested Smith.

"This is a package deal," said Little.

City Administrator Douglas Flautt said the painting would cost $425. Refinishing of desks and chairs, curtain for windows, and lowering the overhead lighting would bring the total cost to about $1,000.

Fireman Only Board Candidate

Volunteer fireman Robert Busher is the sole candidate for the open post on the Novato Fire District board.

Incumbent Ralph C. (Doc) Briggs has decided not to run again, on completion of his three-year term.

Busher, 37, has been a volunteer fireman since 1947. He is a member of the Novato Rotary Club and is active in 4-H Club and Boy Scout work. He lives with his family at 1757 Indian Valley Road.

Since Busher is the only candidate to fill out the three-man board, he will be appointed by county supervisors to save election cost.

Fifty-seven general officers of the Union Army in the Civil War were born in Ohio.

CENSUS HEAD—Richard M. Scammon will be named director of the Bureau of the Census. A native of Minneappolis, he now is director of elections research at the Governmental Affairs Institute, a private, non-profit social science research organization in Washington. (AP Wirephoto)

List Expenses Clearly, Hub Tells Flautt

City expenses should be reported more clearly so that outlays for capital improvement do not slip by unnoticed, San Anselmo city councilmen told City Administrator Douglas Flautt last night.

The matter came up when Flautt presented monthly claims totalling $60,940. Among the expenditures listed was one of $5,606 "for teletype and radio."

"What's this?" Mayor William Franchini asked. The administrator said he was not sure but would check on it.

Councilman Arthur W. Smith noted that an outlay of more than $2,000 was listed for cement. Flautt explained that $1,600 of this was for concrete aprons at the new firehouse and about $600 for work at the corporation yard.

"Shouldn't expenses like this be approved by the council before it is done?" asked Smith.

Administrator Flautt said he believed the expenses were included in the over-all firehouse cost and were within the budget allowed by the council.

"There are many things here that we don't know anything about," said Mayor Franchini. "We ought to know what's being spent even though it's been authorized."

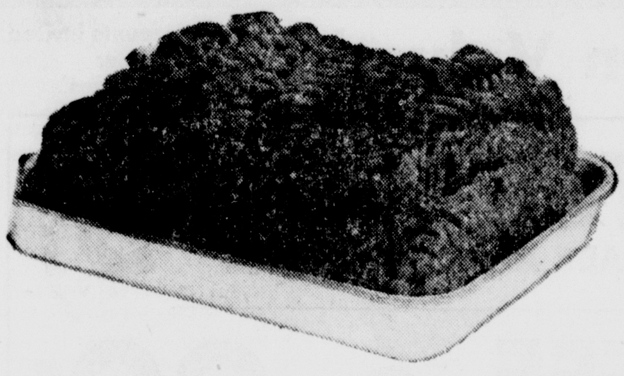

The mayor noted the monthly expenditure list included several items for the firehouse. He said these could eventually add up, and the total expense for the firehouse could be going over the authorized budget without the council's being aware of it.

Councilman Robert H. Rouse suggested that "the key to this thing" is better budgeting. He said the monthly statement of expenses is a list of invoices that have no meaning in relation to various projects.

Councilman Carleton G. E. Little said he believed all the small expenditure items have been authorized before under an over-all outlay. "We can't watch over each $100 item," said Little. "We gotta leave some discretion to the administrator."

City fathers approved the monthly claims, with the exception of $5,606 "for teletype and radio." The administrator is to look into this item.

Slain Body Of Girl, 8, Found In Brush

REDDING (AP)—The body of an 8-year-old girl missing since yesterday was found today, and Shasta County Sheriff John Balma said she had apparently been raped before being slain.

Balma said the head of Vicki Lee Morris was badly crushed and the apparent death weapon, a rock, was found near her body.

The body was discovered 50 yards off a road in a wooded area of scrub oak and manzanita brush near Anderson, about 10 miles south of Redding.

The child vanished yesterday while walking a quarter-mile from a school bus to her home.

A resident of the area told police that about the time the girl got off the bus he saw a dark sedan, driven by a well-dressed man, turn around in the road and drive away slowly.

There was a skid mark at the edge of the pavement a few feet from where the girl was last seen.

SUPERVISORS ROUNDUP

Extra Beds Aproved For Hospital-Farm

Pleading existence of an emergency situation at the county hospital and farm, Marin County Medical Director Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. yesterday won board of supervisors' authorization for four extra beds requested last week but on which action had been deferred.

Dr. Dufficy told the board "there is now no room anywhere" and is not a single available bed at present in any nursing home. Moreover, several Marin patients must be brought back from Napa County because facilities there proved substandard, he declared.

Chairman William D. Fusselman conceded that this added up to an emergency but said he'd wished to have a structural survey before putting in more beds.

"The state has never said it would close our hospital," said Dufficy.

"We have letters indicating otherwise," said Fusselman. "We'll see that you get copies."

Supervisor Walter R. Castro cut in to move that the four beds be approved, Supervisor William Gnoss seconded, and the board concurred 4-0. Supervisor J. Walter Blair was absent due to illness.

The supervisors also:

1. On finance committee recommendation, confirmed three appointments: A. Lorene Shannon as senior stenographer clerk in county clerk's office at $366 monthly; Thomas Tone Storer as deputy district attorney at $530; Ronald A. Stores as fire warden at $383.

2. Agreed to pass a resolution asking the legislature to extend to June 30, 1962, in-lieu tax payments to Sausalito School District because of Marin City redevelopment not yet completed, $8,650 having been involved during the last fiscal year.

3. Accepted bid of Crocker-Anglo National Bank for $449,000 par value bonds of Reed Union School District, on a bid representing an over-all interest rate for a 20-year period of 3.5379383 per cent.

4. Received letters urging that the Shoreline Highway be made part of a "scenic roads system," rather than a freeway, from the Sausalito Women's Club, Muir Beach Community Services District and Chester A. Rhodes of Stinson Beach.

5. Received a public works department map of the Richardson Bay area, based on a state aerial survey and showing submerged streets and bulkhead lines precisely in accordance with recent supervisors' order.

6. Authorized County Administrator Alan Bruce to simplify and shorten the 4-year-old county purchasing ordinance, giving the purchasing agent greater discretion.

Civic Center Slides To Be Shown Soon

The Marin Council of Civic Affairs will have a series of slides on the civic center ready to show to interested groups in about two or three weeks, Harold Stockstar, civic center committee chairman, announced at last night's council meeting.

The slides will include drawings from Frank Lloyd Wright, designer of the center, on the proposed county fairgrounds.

The council set its meetings for the second Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. in room one, Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Mrs. Frederick Cowden was appointed chairman of the committee on information and research; Dr. Bruce Merrill, of the committee on county hospitals; Jack Brandon, of the committee on county administration, and Milen Dempster, of the membership committee.

A budget committee chairman is to be named later.

Citizens Group Letter Lashed By Fusselman

The Citizens Advisory Committee on Development of Marin County thanked the board of supervisors in a letter yesterday for rescinding its county civic center stop-work order.

(It was at a meeting of the advisory committee that a hubbub over the stop-work order resulted in creation of Citizens for the Civic Center, now the Marin Council of Civic Affairs.)

The letter, signed by Julius Selinger, committee chairman, said the committee "recommends that your board proceed in the light of county requirements to develop the entire civic center in accordance with the 1958 master plan."

Chairman William D. Fusselman harrumphed that the letter and an accompanying report sent by Selinger "could be a one-man action."

"Let's ask Selinger to furnish minutes of the meeting that authorized this," said Fusselman. "They rarely even have a quorum.

"This is just a letter signed by Selinger with a purported report but no indication of what action really was taken. We're entitled to know who sat and determined this. I suggest that we carry it along till we find out."

County Clerk George S. Jones was asked to seek the information.

The report, not discussed, comprised 10 mimeographed pages reviewing the growing need for more county office and other space; saying county business is now conducted at 16 locations in San Rafael; arguing suitability of the civic center site and finding costs "reasonable," and praising the functionality of the buildings as designed.

Family Does Things Together

EHRHARDT, S. C. (AP) — The Brabham family of Ehrhardt believes in doing things together.

At one time recently, Mrs. H. M. Brabham was ill at her home. Son Marion, daughter-in-law Frances, and sister-in-law Adelaide were hospital patients. Daughter-in-law Katherine suffered a fall which put her to bed, and daughter Blanche was recuperating from an ear infection.

Son Walker had just been dismissed from a hospital.

Reed Public Opinion To Be Asked On School

Reed Union School District trustees will seek community opinion before deciding whether to construct the Del Mar Estates school without state aid, it was decided at last night's meeting.

"The decision is up to the community . . . it is dollars vs. better education," trustee chairman Richard J. MacLaury said.

Further discussion of the state aid problem was adjourned until a special meeting of the board until next Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Reed School Auditorium.

The adjournment followed a two and one-half hour discussion of the problem after a report by trustee Leo Souza in which he said "there is a hidden cost to staying on state aid." He elaborated: "The payment of state loans means a loss of $6,000 . . . It costs us more to float bonds to our required 95 per cent of bonding capacity which is a state aid requirement."

Souza continued: "We could complete the Del Mar school without state aid by 1965. Under state aid we could possibly not complete until 1968. Our tax rate will be higher now and will drop drastically by 1975."

Spectator Seymour Whitelaw declared: "It is an act of altruism for us to pay a high tax rate now which gives us no present advantage . . . The new residents will benefit from the future low tax rate."

Mrs. Lawrence West added: "It is unrealistic to be concerned over large elementary classes when our high schools may go on double sessions . . . will it jeopardize the passing of the Tamalpais High School tax increase if we raise ours?"

Trustee Erwin C. Farley replied "This district passed the last Tamalpais high school tax increase request."

Reed Parent-Teacher Club president Mrs. Benton B. Mathews reminded the board that "during the campaign for our recent bond issue you emphasized no tax raise . . . it might be hard to sell any decision to raise taxes to the community.

The board authorized the addition of 45 minutes to the hours of attendance in the morning for band members.

Subdivision Plans Due City Council

Developers of the Madrone Woodlands subdivision will discuss their plans with the Larkspur City Council at 8 p.m. today in city hall.

The council at its latest meeting indicated it was not happy with the size of lots proposed for the subdivision. The developers are planning 7,500 square foot lots—the minimum permitted under the subdivision and zoning ordinances.

The developers also have been advised the city will not force anyone to join a Madrone Woodlands assessment district.

The councilmen will consider whether they want to take action supporting two new bills in the legislature—one increasing the gasoline tax and the other increasing auto license fees. Both would provide additional street improvement funds.

Also on the agenda are a master gas tax agreement with the state, setting of a public hearing on an assessment split of property on Corte Madera Creek, sign provisions of the proposed zoning ordinance. Doherty Drive extension, and councilman James T. Lienkaemper's proposals for increasing citizen interest in municipal affairs.

Used Auto Lots Provide Flag Study

BALTIMORE (AP) — If you know your flags, every day can be United Nations day at used car lots.

One flag student walking along Belair Road one morning identified national flags of Luxembourg, Monaco (in distress), Indonesia (in distress), Thailland and the Netherlands; the German state flags of Saxony, Hesse (in distress) Thurlingen and Schleswig-Holstein, the Swiss city flags of St. Gallen, Unterwalden, Vaud and Solothurn, and the Danish pilot's flag.

Twin Cities School Called 'Sub Standard'

The Larkspur-Corte Madera School building is not maintained on a "comparable standard" with others in Larkspur School District, a dozen mothers from the Larkspur-Corte Madera Parent-Teacher Assn. told district trustees last night.

A formal letter from Mrs. Harold C. Stephenson, P-TA president of 2 Ardmore Road, Larkspur, said a tour of the lavatories of the school proved them to be "sub-standard."

"All we can say is that they are clean," the letter said.

WANTS SAME LEVEL

"We don't want children and mothers to say 'thank goodness' when they leave this school,"

"What is your policy going to be?" a mother asked the trustees. "The school is not maintained on a par with the others."

One mother said there were no doors on the boys' toilets, affording the children "No privacy."

"That's the same toilet where the boy cut his hand on the barbed wire," a parent declared.

(A child in the Larkspur-Corte Madera School last week cut his hand on a strip of barbed wire which was nailed along the top of a bar supporting the partitions between the toilets. School officials, who removed the wire after the accident, said it had apparently been placed there during the time when Neil Cummins was Superintendent "to keep the youngsters from swinging on the partitions." Officials said they were unaware the wire was there. Cummons retired in June, 1956.)

OFFICIALS AWARE

Gilbert Slusher, Larkspur-Corte Madera principal, said officials were aware of the school's shortcomings. "When the budget comes up for discussion we will make recommendations on the situation," he said.

In other action last night, the trustees:

1. Approved a request by Harold C. Stephenson, little league representative, that the little league be allowed to improve and repair the baseball diamond at the Larkspur-Corte Madera School.

2. Instructed the superintendent to request, for the second time, a police crossing guard for the Magnolia Avenue entrance to the Henry C. Hall School. The city council last year turned down a similar request.

3. Informed Mariners Cove Property Owners Assn. representative Bud Cole that approval had been given a contract between the district and the town of Corte Madera whereby playground equipment could be installed on the site of the new San Clemente School on Paradise Drive.

THE BIG BERTHA IN RADAR

This drawing shows 84-foot radar installation of the type that will be built at the Point Arena radar site north of San Francisco early this spring. Officials at Hamilton Air Force Base say the radar reflector will measure 120 feet wide and will be one of the world's largest rotating structures. (AP Wirephoto)

Novato Eyes Requests For Street Lighting

Things appeared brighter for Novato last night as city councilmen looked over resident requests for street lighting which have come in since incorporation.

Requests for 185 additional lighting installations were tallied by City Administrator J. Julien Baget, with the aid of Pacific Gas and Electric Co. engineers who outlined the probable cost of various types and intensities of light.

Total cost to the city, if the requests are followed, would be $7,098 yearly to be paid to the utility, on top of the present annual bill of about $25,000. The figures include installation and maintenance of lights.

The city levied a 22-cent tax this year to finance the lighting after city takeover of a former lighting district.

Councilmen Everett Pozzi and M. E. (Babe) Silva were appointed to check on the report, with the aid of Police and PG&E representatives. Still to come from the utility is a final street lighting plan, expected by April 1, which will outline the long-range lighting needs of the city.

In other business last night, the Novato council:

1. Heard resident Sam Zanco declare that he would not give an inch of land for widening of Center Road unless the widening was carried to the Lu Sutton School, two blocks beyond the section the city had planned to widen. The widening plan came about because of the danger to school children walking along the narrow road.

2. Delayed consideration of an adjustment requested by Harold Frazier, Inc., to construct four homes on Drakewood Lane with garages within 5 of the property line. The ordinance calls for 25-foot setback. Discussion was continued to the Feb. 28 meeting.

3. Approved an adjustment for parking for Andrew B. Talbot of San Francisco which will permit him to construct a three-story office building near Fifth and Grant Streets.

4. Authorized Councilman Pozzi, at his request, to make a survey on opinion of possible "restricted parking."

5. Noted that the April 29 meeting of the North Bay Area, League of California Cities, will be in Novato, with some 300 delegates expected. They probably will meet at Hamilton Air Force Base.

6. Appointed Councilman John J. Angeloni and Charles R. Johnson to a legislative committee to decide on any city lobby action on state legislative bills between council meetings.

7. Approved expenses for Councilmen Pozzi and City Administrator Baget to attend an Assn. of Bay Area Governments meeting Feb. 24 in Oakland, with Councilman M. E. (Babe) Silva voting "No." The city is not a member of the association and last night tabled discussion of joining.

8. Adopted an amendment to the taxicab ordinance setting a $100 yearly fee for operation.

9. Adopted an amendment to the electrical code setting a 20-cent fee for inspection of certain outlets.

Double Trouble

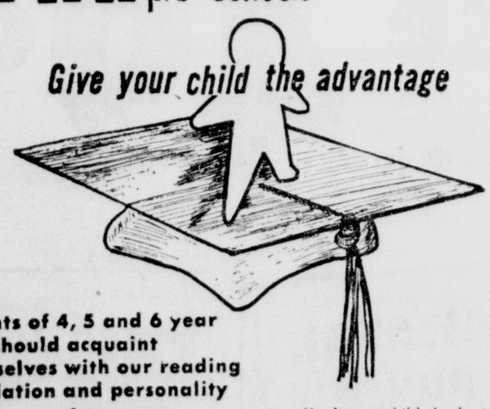

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)—It was just one of those days for 8-year-old Johnny Hines. Or, rather, two of those days. He fell out of a swing one day and broke his right wrist. The next day he fell playing football and broke his left wrist.

LOTHAR SALIN
Announces candidacy

Printing Firm Owner Seeks School Post

Lothar Salin, 36-year-old owner of Salin Printing and Advertising Co. of San Rafael, announced his candidacy for the San Rafael Board of Education today.

He is the third announced candidate for the two school board seats that will be up for election on April 10. His acting campaign manager, M. G. Widergren of 2106 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, took out applications forms for verifications deputies yesterday afternoon.

Salin, who lives at 15 Ross Street with his wife, Marjorie, and five children, has been a resident of San Rafael for 11 years. He is a graduate of the University of Basel in Switzerland and spent one semester at the graduate school of New York University.

Born in Heidelberg, Germany, Salin grew up in Switzerland. He came to the United States in 1946 and after four months in graduate school became associate editor at the New York Academy of Sciences.

Between 1948 and 1950, Salin served as a consultant to various printing firms in San Francisco and Los Angeles. In 1950, he moved to San Rafael and set up his own shop.

Salin is a past district governor in the Toastmaster organization, a director of the Point Reyes National Seashore Foundation, past president of the San Rafael Optimist Club, vice president of the Marin Senior Coordinating Council, and a member of the Marin Rod and Gun Club, Marin County Historical Society and the San Francisco Press and Union League Club.

Belvedere Coupe Are On The Mend

Burton E. Stitt, 38, and his wife, Hazel, 37, Belvedere couple seriously injured in an automobile accident Sunday near Vacaville, were reported in satisfactory condition today at Inter-Community Hospital in Fairfield.

Mrs. Stitt is suffering from fractures of arm and leg. Her husband sustained multiple lacerations.

The driver of one of the other two cars involved in the head-on crash, Michael T. Gholsen, 21, of Vallejo, was killed in the accident.

Stitt, a division manager for California Physicians Service, lives at 70 San Rafael Avenue. The couple were returning from a weekend of skiing at Soda Springs at the time of the accident.

Increase For Fish

DAVIS (UPI)—Man may soon be scientifically fertilizing lakes with elements needed only in trace amounts to increase fish production, according to findings of a researcher at the University of California here.

APPOINTED — Earl E. T. Smith has been proposed by President John F. Kennedy as ambassador to Switzerland. Some Swiss officials have privately expressed embarrassment because Smith was ambassador to Cuba from 1957 to 1959 and was regarded as close to ousted President Fulgencio Batista. (AP Wirephoto)

New Larkspur School Will Be San Clemente

Larkspur School District trustees last night unanimously approved San Clemente as the name for the district's fourth elementary school.

The trustees were told by Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel that the district now has clear title to the 10-acre site on Paradise Drive in Corte Madera on which the school will be built.

The board gave tentative approval to the school plans and instructed the architects, Reid, Rockwell, Banwell and Tarics, to submit them to the state Department of Architecture. When approved there, the plans will go to the state allocation board, which will grant construction funds.

The site was purchased from San Clemente Land Co. for $275,000. Construction costs are estimated at $636,000.

The name San Clemente topped a list submitted to the board by a school naming committee headed by chairman Curtis P. Kamai of 33 El Camino Drive, Corte Madera. The committee's second choice was Corte Marina.

San Clemente was recommended, according to Kamai, because it defined the general area of the site and had been in use for over 100 years, being the name used at the old railroad stop at Paradise Drive in what is now the Meadowsweet Area. It is also the name of the creek that surrounds the area and satisfied the need for a "unifying name" for the area which includes the subdivisions of Mariner Cove, Marina Village and Marin Estates, Kamai said.

Communications Unit Goes Out Of Business At HAFB

The 1902nd Airways and Air Communications Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base went out of business today.

Its duties of aiding approximately 40 air bases in eight states with navigation, weather and flight plan information will be taken over by a more local level by the Federal Aviation Agency. The airports using the services are small military installations lacking their own service and National Guard units.

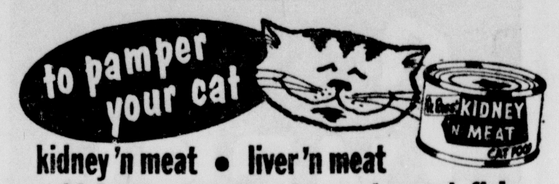

The 45 to 50 men at Hamilton will be cut to a skeleton crew of 10 enlisted men and one officer until April 1, when the changeover is expected to be completed.

Under the FAA, new flight information regions will be set up. Bay Area information will come from Oakland and San Francisco airports.

On July 1, part of the services supplied by the 1902nd Squadron are expected to be taken over by the newly organized Air Force Communications Services. Such services as the base telephone exchange, teletype and ground radio are expected to be under the new service.

Scientists of the Lick Observatory says the surface temperature of the sun is 6,673 degrees centigrade.

Because of the flexibility of heavy white turkeys, which can be marketed as fryer-roasters or grown out to be heavyweights, they have been displacing the small white Beltsville turkeys in popularity during the past several years.

State Tells School How To Use Funds

Trustees of the Larkspur School District last night were in the embarrassing position of a man with money in his pocket but not allowed to spend it on what he wants.

The board recently agreed the district needed some $30,000 worth of classroom apparatus, including globes, maps, screens, projectors, loudspeakers, phonographs and other audio-visual equipment.

Last week Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel took the trustee's shopping list to Sacramento—only to be told by the State Board of Education that the district could not buy such items with state funds. It can purchase such items as blacktopping and fencing of playgrounds and school yards, he learned.

The superintendent was instructed by the board to revise, with the help of the schools' principals, the list of "most needed" items to back a request for state funds.

The classroom apparatus and supplies, the trustees agreed, would have to wait until next year's budget.

Boy, 14, Sets Off False Fire Alarm

A 14-year-old San Rafael High School student admitted tampering with a fire alarm box last night which sent two engine companies and two police cars racing to Bay Street and Francisco Boulevard.

The false alarm was turned in a 9:45 p.m. Police Officer John Kingston, on his way to the alarm, saw two youths walking quickly about 300 yards from the alarm box. Later he found the pair, both 14-year-old high school students, sitting on the bridge at Irwin Street and Francisco Blvd.

One of the youths admitted tampering with part of the box; the other boy said he just watched.

Sausalito Wants More State Funds For Roads

The Sausalito City Council last night adopted a resolution urging the state legislature to enact laws granting more revenues to cities and counties for elimination of street deficiencies.

Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., who said the city is very concerned about the problem, also asked that Sausalitans write to State Sen. John F. McCarthy and Assemblyman William T. Bagley.

Cities and counties do not get enough money from gasoline and motor vehicle taxes, City Manager Charles A. Brown said.

The League of California Cities and California County Supervisors Assn. both have suggested more support by either (1) raising motor vehicle license fees from $2 to $3; (2) increasing gasoline tax by one cent per gallon; (3) increasing the user taxes to produce an equivalent amount of revenue.

The council also:

1. Approved use of $2,000 from gasoline tax funds for a preliminary study by City Engineer John L. Hunter of direct access and thoroughfare from Highway 101 to Bridgeway.
2. Announced it will discuss the Marinship master plan at its meeting next Tuesday.
3. Increased salary of city manager Charles A. Brown from $700 to $730 per month.
4. Received the resignation of Dr. Thomas Wiper from the planning commission, due to press of business.
5. Received the resignation of Rev. Joseph S. Doron from the library board. Rev. Doron, rector of Christ Episcopal Church, has been a trustee for seven years.
6. Awarded Argonaut Construction of Santa Rosa a $4,850 contract for a new sewer from Ondine restaurant to 200 feet south of the restaurant.
7. Called for bids on widening of south and Alexander Streets.
8. Heard a request by councilman Marjorie Brady that Marinship businesses send examples of their advertising or photographs of their product or labels, to be exhibited in Sausalito and then sent to the city's sister city, Vina Del Mar, Chile.
9. Adjourned in memory of the late mayor Arthur Kanzee Jr. of Ross.

San Rafael Hospital Adds Four Physicians

Four Marin County physicians have been added to the associate medical staff of San Rafael General Hospital, John H. Prescott, administrator, announced today.

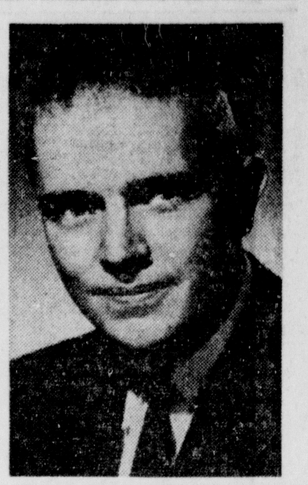

The four are Drs. Edward C. Sargent Jr., San Rafael, obstetrics and gynecology; Maurice S. Salomon, San Rafael, ophthalmology; Andrew Noble, San Anselmo, pediatrics, and Robert J. Patocchi, Novato, general practice.

Fairfax Hires New Fireman

George Hettema, 28, of 54 Sequoia Drive, Fairfax, will be the fifth paid fireman, counting Chief Charles Thornton, in the Fairfax Fire Department. He was appointed by the city council last night.

Hettema, a maintenance man of the Fairfax Street Department for the past six months, was high man in a civil service examination for the job.

Hettema was formerly a maintenance employee of Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito.

HEADS NEW FIRM—Robert F. Ohrenschall of Larkspur has been elected president of the newly formed San Francisco corporation, Soyster and Ohrenschall, Inc., engaged in packaging, graphic design, motivational research and marketing counseling.

Sausalito Approves Land Purchase

The Sausalito City Council last night voted unanimously to purchase five underwater lots at Bridgeway and Richardson Street from Walter L. Benson for $33,000.

The lots are to be used eventually for an aquatic park.

Money for the lots, which comprise 25,000 square feet, will come from the city's general fund, and be paid in two transactions. Five days after execution of the contract $25,000 will be paid, and the $8,000 balance, with interest at 6 per cent, will be paid on or before Aug. 1.

The city council purchased other underwater lots in Shelter Cove last June with $21,000 of the cost being raised by the Sausalito foundation and $42,000 to be paid by the city over a two-year period. Suits are pending in Marin Superior Court attempting to nullify the sale of the five Shelter Cove lots.

Absentee Ballot Period Is Open

The period for casting absentee ballots in the Terra Linda annexation election opened today and extends until March 2.

San Rafael City Clerk W. L. Morgan said voters may write to his office for absentee ballots or obtain one in person. The ballots may be filled out at home or in the city clerk's office in the city hall.

Absentee ballots will be turned over to a canvassing board after the election on March 7 to decide whether Terra Linda shall be annexed to the City of San Rafael.

Buried Treasure

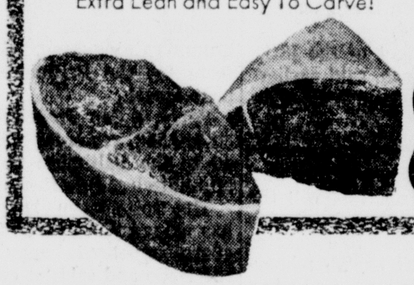

MANITOWOC, Wis. (AP)—Excavation of a gravel pit recently uncovered a forest of trees all lying in the same direction. University of Wisconsin scientists, estimating the wood was about 11,000 years old, believe one of the great glaciers that overspread Wisconsin buried the trees.

Entire U.S. Skating Team Killed

Belgian Plane Disaster En Route To World Meet

NEW YORK (UPI)—She first slid onto the ice in a yellow snowsuit when she was two years old. For nearly 14 years her world was bounded by the cold ice of dawn, the chill squeak of skates after dark.

Last Sunday she was crowned a queen. Her slim skating figure and her bright young smile are the cover girl of a magazine on every American newsstand today. She was just 16. The world and the dreams of Olympic championship lay ahead.

And forever lost.

Laurence Owen, an honor roll senior at Winchester, Mass., high school and the brightest new star of American ice skating is dead in a Belgian field.

Killed with her in the crash of a Sabena Belgian jet liner were the persons who had built and most closely shared her dreams:

—Her widowed mother, Mrs. Maribel Vinson Owen, a champion skater herself a generation ago.

—Laurence's older sister Maribel, a Boston University senior.

—Dudley Richards, the partner with whom young Maribel captured the National Senior Pairs Championships at Colorado Springs last month.

ENTIRE TEAM

—14 other young American skaters, the entire figure skating championship team.

—The team's manager, Dean McMinn of Lomita, Calif., an amateur representing the American Skating Union who was in charge of the team.

—Four other professional coaches.

—Parents, brothers and sisters, a coach's child, skating officials and at least two fans going along to see the contest.

In the close world of a demanding sport the crash was a family tragedy of national proportions.

The dead were youngsters who had worked and competed together since childhood; in many cases brothers and sisters died together.

The skating team, fresh from the North American Championships in Philadelphia in which Laurence won the United States' only crown, was en route to Prague for a world championship competition.

UNDISPUTED CHAMP

The slim girl had a short straight haircut and a pixy smile that wrinkled her nose and captured every photographer's heart. She was for just two days, America's undisputed champion on ice, successor to Carol Heiss, to Tenley Albright, a neighbor who remembers the younger girl's debut.

Mrs. Owen, who at 15 lost a 1928 Olympic title to Norway's Sonja Henie, had worked what friends said seemed 24 hours a day since her husband's death in 1952 to keep her champion daughters on ice. Her day and night job was coaching others in the exacting sport; her free time was devoted to coaching her own family.

Laurence placed sixth in last year's Olympics at Squaw Valley. In its cover story about her last week, Sports Illustrated said: "Her free skating has an air, a style, an individuality which sets it apart from all the work done in free skating in recent years . . . Laurence's great gift is a feeling for her music. She has the good dancer's over-all sense of her own body, and at no time will the line of, say, one arm, be at odds with the whole. She skates cleanly—no tricks, no maneuvered presentations. And when she is going well, she is able to translate precisely what she feels and intends as a dancer into terms of ice and skates—which is a rarer ability than one might suppose."

OTHER DEATHS

Dallas (Larry) Pierce, 24, of Indianapolis, and Diane Sherbloom of Los Angeles, who won the National Dance Skating Championship together at Colorado Springs, Jan. 27.

Daniel Ryan, one-time Canadian skating champion who was professional skating coach at the Indianapolis Coliseum.

Bradley Lord of Boston, who won a U.S. championship at Colorado Springs and narrowly missed the title at Philadelphia.

Douglas Ramsay, 16, of Detroit, winner of last year's U.S. Junior title, and his coach, Carl Swallender, 52 of Southfield, Mich.

Gregory Kelley, 16, who had placed third in the men's singles at Philadelphia, and his sister, Nathalie, who was accompanying him.

William Hickox, 18, a cadet at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, and his sister, Laurie, 15, of San Francisco, who compete as a skating pair.

OLYMPIC COACH

Ila A. Hadley, 18, and her brother, Ray E., 17, of Seattle, also pair skaters, with their mother, Mrs. Alrah Hadley.

Patricia and Robert Dineen of New York City, a married couple in their early 20's who compete as dance pair. Their seven-month-old son stayed home with a grandmother.

Roger Campbell and Donna Lee Carrier, both of North Hollywood, a dancing pair who finished second at Philadelphia, and Roger's mother, Mrs. Ann Campbell.

Rhode Lee Michelson of Long Beach, a women's singles competitor.

Harold Hartshorne of New York, a former amateur skating champion who was to be a judge at the Prague contest, with his wife, Louisa.

Walter Powell of St. Louis, a delegate of the United States to the International Skating Union.

William Kipp, of Downey, Calif., a coach.

Edward and Richard Lemaire of Rye, N.Y., identified by skating officials as fans who were traveling with the team.

WORLD SKATING TOURNEY MAY BE CANCELLED

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—A spokesman for the organizing committee of the world figure skating championships said today the event has not been canceled despite the death of U. S. competitors in the Brussels plane crash.

The spokesman said in a telephone call from Prague that reports distributed by the East German news agency ADN that the competitions have been called off "are not true."

However final decision on the competition now rests with the International Skating Union with headquarters in Switzerland.

The president of the ISU, Dr. James Koch, said earlier he favored calling off the event.

World Champs Dick Jenkins, Carol Heiss Mourn Disaster

BOSTON—The laughter of a skating show turned to tears today when news of the Belgian plane crash reached Boston.

Last night, 9,500 fans cheered, laughed and clapped the stars of Shipstads and Johnson's Ice Follies.

This morning the stars wept for the friends they lost in the disaster in Belgium.

"And to think that only last night I wished some of them good luck by phone," World Ice Skating Champion David Jenkins said. "I was looking forward to hearing they were winning in Europe; now they're dead."

Another star of the show, Germany's Ina Bauer, cried "my mother and I often worried about such a plane crasn when we flew across the Atlantic."

Richard Dwyer, young "old pro" of the show, said when he first heard of the crash, "I sat down and prayed."

"All of our prayers go with them, and their families," he said.

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—"It's a great tragedy, said figure skating champion Carol Heiss, "both to all their families and skating."

Miss Heiss, now married to men's skating champ David Jenkins, said that she knew all of the U. S. skaters aboard the Sabena jetliner that crashed at Brussels today.

"I had competed with most of them," she said. "All our top figure skaters were aboard. I guess this will just about do it for our figure skating for some time."

Miss Heiss won the women's figure skating championship at the Winter Olympics at Squaw Valley last year. Her husband won the men's title there.

"This crash," she said, "it really makes you think. My husband and I were just thinking about the number of times we were traveling. This could have happened on any of those trips."

Pay TV Is No Longer Mythical But Is Still In A Struggling State

CONNOLLY

My Uncle Mike always contends a big guy is a sucker to fight a little guy because if the big guy wins, everybody says "why don't you pick on somebody your own size," and if he loses everybody says, "serves him right, the big bully."

Which is about the best way of sizing up the "pay TV" struggle now going on between the big shots of air waves.

To watch the return bout for the heavyweight championship of the world between Floyd Patterson and Ingemar Johansson could cost you and the family $10 to $20. Already, I hear, the closed circuit rights to the fight have been sold for around $500,000, give or take a couple hundred grand.

Pay TV is no longer a maybe, or a myth. Congress has said OK. So hold onto your antenna, for here comes Zenith, Telemeter, Skiatorn, Bi-Tran, Teleglobe and Teleprompter who have invested millions of dollars and a lot of research to clap an "electronic padlock" on your TV set.

One thing we all know for sure; sport telecasting causes more empty seats than a sponsor can pay for, and results in necessary TV blackouts. Some form of pay TV is the only answer.

DR. RUDOLF FLESCH believes people would prefer to be "Angels" to the low income and charity classes, who can't afford their pro-rated share of any form of pay TV, scrambled or compatible Angel TV.

The truth is it will cost considerably less to be an "Angel" because you save a lot on expensive decoding gadgets to see a sports telecast via compatible Angel Toll Vision.

Example: Angel TV-National networks, 200 stations, 5,000,000 Angel TV subscribers equal $2,500,000 at 50 cents per family instead of $10-$20 closed circuit.

ACCORDING TO International Business Machines, who have been working on this angle, it will be easy to tabulate the subscribers on ATV coded cards.

Hal Schwartz of Halvick Toll Vision advocates a voluntary pre-subscription system for Compatible Pay TV. He has a strong booster for it in Dr. Flesch, who has given me permission to reprint all or part of his theory. I quote as follows:

"What is Angel TV? Very simple. It's the application of current methods of Broadway production to TV. Whenever a producer has a show he wants to bring to Broadway, he finds the necessary number of financial backers.

"AS SOON as he has the money, he goes ahead and does the show. This is a fantastically cumbersome system but somehow, miraculously, it works. Ever hear of a sponsored Broadway show, with commercials every 12 minutes?

"There is something un-American in the notion of not letting the neighbors watch the subscription program, simply because they can't afford the fee.

"THE AMERICAN way is to put on a show by an "angel" system and give everybody who didn't pay, a free ride. If Proctor and Gamble can give a free ride to the users of Palmolive soap, why can't I give a free ride to a few million fellow Americans?

"I understand a good Playhouse 90 production costs $100,000. All right, let's ask 100,000 people to pay $1 each. Why wouldn't that work?

"And then imagine a good TV evening without commercials . . ."

Yep, Dr. Flesch has a helluva idea.

Surprise For Giants! Cepeda Signs Early

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Orlando Cepeda, who usually likes to wait until the last minute to sign his contract, surprised the San Francisco Giants by mailing his signed pact for 1961 yesterday from his native Puerto Rico.

Cepeda was believed to have received about $27,500 — a slight raise over last year—even though he had his worst year as a Giant in 1960.

He hit .297, drove in 96 runs and hit 24 homers. All figures represented drops from 1959, but it was pointed out that the whipping wind from left field at Candlestick Park battled the best shots of the right-handed slugger.

Still unanswered is the question of where the 23-year-old Cepeda will play. He can go at either first base or left field, but the Giants have Willie McCovey back for another shot at first and traded for Harvey Kuenn during the winter.

MUSICAL CHAIRS

Kuenn can play left field, but can also perform at third base. Of course, the Giants already have Jim Davenport at the hot corner, which indicates that Alvin Dark may be playing musical chairs with a lot of regulars this year. But whether in left field or first base, Dark has said Cepeda will play regularly this year.

Giants Vice President Chub Feeney said team scout Pete Zorrilla, who originally signed Cepeda, was instrumental in bringing the recent bridegroom to terms for 1961. Cepeda married Annie Pino Valasquez in San Juan this winter.

Feeney also announced the signing of pitcher Eddie Fisher and infielder Farrell Bowman. This brought to 31 the total number of Giants who have inked 1961 contracts.

Fisher, 24, finished last year with a 1-0 mark with the Giants after hanging up a 17-12 record at Tacoma of the Pacific Coast League. The knuckleballer had a 2-6 mark as a Giant in 1959.

TAM, S.R. LOSE IN PRACTICE CAGE TILTS

Tamalpais Indians and San Rafael Bulldogs, second place co-holders in the Marin Athletic League, suffered setbacks yesterday in practice basketball games that won't affect their league standings.

Tam got 19-point performances each from Norm Kreuter and Connie Hoetger, but the Indians couldn't keep up with the torrid scoring pace of the San Francisco State College junior varsity. Final score was 80-65.

San Rafael, meanwhile, was shelled by the potent Vallejo High Apaches, 45-26 at Vallejo. San Rafael's usual top scorer, Randy Petrini, again led the Bulldogs, this time with 15 points.

All other Marin League teams were idle. League action resumes Friday night with Redwood at Marin Catholic, Drake at Tamalpais and San Rafael at Novato.

Melinda Magley Wins Golf Event

A card of 87 by Melinda Magley won low gross honors yesterday in a guest day medal handicap tournament conducted by the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club at the Novato course.

Low net winners:

Class A—Mrs. Roy Sayles, 94-17—77; Mrs. William May, 90-12—78; Mrs. Warren Smith, 99-21—78; Mrs. Harry Hensler, 90-11—79; Mrs. Lynn Sumpter, 97-17—80.

Class B—Mrs. Arthur Sears, 110-28—82; Mrs. Andrew Sommerville, 117-31—86; Mrs. Joel Hamby, 122-33—89; Mrs. Charles Zapelli, 116-26—90.

Two Bay Area Skaters Die

BERKELEY (AP) — Two Bay Area skaters were among the Americans killed in the jet airliner crash at Brussels today.

"The tragedy killed the best amateur skaters in the United States—the nucleus of our 1964 Olympic team," said John R. Shoemaker, Pacific Coast vice president of the U.S. Figure Skating Assn.

"Most of those in the 1960 Olympics have turned pro or retired from competition.

"Those killed in the crash were our finest young stars."

They included William "Bill" Hickox, 18, and his sister, Laurie, 15, children of Mr. and Mrs. Lute V. Hickox of 842 Oxford St., Berkeley.

William was a cadet at the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs.

Maribel Vinson Owen, the coach, and her daughters, national champion Laurence and Mirabel, formerly lived in Berkeley.

'I'LL DO MY BEST'

'Jet' Sees New Lease On Life With Colts

Joe "The Jet" Perry, all time National Football League ground-gaining king, will perform for the Baltimore Colts next season.

Perry, a San Francisco 49er since 1948, yesterday was traded to the Baltimore Colts for an undisclosed draft choice.

The soft-spoken back, who has gained 7,246 yards for the 49ers, appeared happy about the trade and said "it could be a new lease on life for me."

Injuries to huge Alan Ameche last season were considered to be the key reason that the Colt were unable to win a third straight world championship.

In Baltimore, Colt Coach Weeb Ewbank frankly said he hoped Perry could make first string next season.

Ameche suffered a severed Achille tendon and may not be ready for this season. "If Alan does come back," Ewbank said, "well and good. But if he can't, then the door is wide open for Perry."

"To get the job, he'll have to beat out Billy Pricer and a couple of rookies. Can he do it? Well, we're banking on him right now."

Perry carried the ball only 36 times for San Francisco last year as J. D. Smith and C. R. Roberts took over the first-string running back slots.

The 34-year-old Perry said he felt he could move into the Colts starting lineup. "I'm not washed up. And I'll be in tip-top share when I report. I'll give the Colts my very best. It's the only way I know to play football.

The 200-pound line-blaster found one certain benefit from the trade. "At least I know I won't have (Baltimore linemen) Big Daddy Lipscomb and Gino Marchetti grinding me to the ground," he quipped.

Futility Records Fall As Broncs Nip San Jose, 30-29

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The nation's best defensive records collided last night and the result was a game reminiscent of days gone by.

Santa Clara beat San Jose 30-29 and the teams, in the process, established a host of low scoring marks for the West Coast Athletic Conference.

In another WCAC game St. Mary's beat University of Pacific 72-64.

Going into the game San Jose and Santa Clara ranked 1-2 defensively in the nation, based on points allowed per game. But the ratings are deceptive. The Broncos and the Spartans stress defense all right, but they also hold onto the ball, taking lots of time between shots and thereby lowering scores.

San Jose's 29 points was the least ever tallied by a WCAC club. The Spartans also held the old futility record — 30 points against the University of San Francisco in 1955. Santa Clara's 30 was the lowest winning score ever in the league. The Broncos once won a game with 40 points, the previous low winning mark, when they edged St. Mary's 40-39 in 1956. That game had stood as the lowest two-team total until last night.

The combined field goals—10 by San Jose and 9 by Santa Clara—also were a new low, erasing the 20 scored in a 1955 St. Mary's-USF game.

The secret of the whole thing, though, may be gleaned from still another record set in last night's game—Santa Clara's nine second half shots, fewest ever in a WCAC half, lowering a St. Mary's 1956 mark of 10.

The kids just weren't throwing the ball at the basket very often. Santa Clara used a tight zone defense; San Jose, a pressing man-to-man.

Gene Shields, the Broncos' big sophomore, won the game with a long hook shot at the final buzzer. Joe Braun of San Jose was high scorer with 10. Santa Clara now is 4-4 in the WCAC, San Jose 3-4.

St. Mary's (4-2) beat Pacific (0-4) in a game that started as a rout, turned into a battle and almost became a free for all. The Gaels led 12-1 after four minutes but the Tigers tied the game midway in the second half and led by a point with 6½ minutes to play.

Tom Meschery, the game's high scorer with 30 points, then went on a rampage, tallying 11 in a row. Ken Stanley led the Pacific with 22.

Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., advanced by beating Tona Prado, Mexico, 6-3, 6-2. Linda Vail, Oakland, beat Yoland Perez Mexico, 6-1, 6-4.

Silver Salmon In Redwood Creek At Muir Monument

Rains have brought enough water into Redwood Creek at the Muir Woods National Monument to start the silver salmon running from the ocean, according to Supt. Frederick M. Martischang, who said he saw several salmon spawning in the stream today.

He said the run is entirely dependent upon the continuing rainfall which keeps the stream high enough to support the fish. Unless more rain comes during the week, the stream will be down and there will probably be no run this weekend, he added. Fish, which are between 14 and 20 inches long, spawn in the stream and then die. They continue until about the first of April.

Some steelhead trout have also been seen, Martischang said. They differ from the salmon, he added, in that they come up stream and then return to the ocean.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

So Far, This Steelhead Season Has Been More Washout Than Splash

STEVENS

There should be some good to excellent steelhead fishing in the north coast streams in 1962. So far, this season has been a washout, literally as well as figuratively. On Saturday there was a five-inch fall of rain in the Mendocino County coast streams and almost as much northward to the Oregon line. Ernie Titus of Point Arena told me the rivers had overflowed their banks. "If it stays clear from now on it will probably be a week before the streams will become fishable." Not very encouraging, is it?

And that brings up the old, old question of why don't we have an open season on winter steelhead through March, instead of closing it on the last day of February. It is the concensus of the old-timers that a run of somewhat smaller, but extremely active fish comes into the fresh water to spawn during March. "Bluebacks," they are called.

I subscribe to the suggestion. I have stood on the bank of the Gualala and the Navarro rivers in the middle of March and seen hundreds of fresh-run steelhead in the clear water of various holes.

ACTUALLY WE HAVE a very short steelhead season. The season opens the first of November, but the fish don't seem to know it—not in the Mendocino County tidal streams, anyhow. Under good conditions there is seldom any action until the middle of December, and then the rains come along. January and February are rainy months, as we all know. So, if you add up the actual number of days when there is even a fair chance of taking the most highly prized game fish we have in these parts, it is questioned if we have more than 30 days fishing during the whole season.

The extension of the month of March might give a great deal of satisfaction to a great many ardent anglers. Think it over, talk it over at your club. If enough sports fishermen want that extension hard enough and let the powers that be hear about it enough—could be that it will become a fact.

During the lull in the steelhead fishing, you might try using the same gear for striper striving hither and yon (Bait fishing, not trolling). Or you might go aboard one of the party boats out of the Berkeley Harbor, Point Richmond, or Sausalito and troll for your fish dinner in the Red Rock area. That revived fast fishing has continued over the weekend and most likely will continue through the coming week.

DORIS MARSHALL of the Berkeley Harbor Bait Shop told me the hot lure has been "white Bugeye" with pork-rind tailbait. She also mentioned some good perch fishing from the long pier. "One fellow caught a small steelhead Sunday," she said. No retail perch, but plenty of the others. Lots of horse smelt and an occasional flounder with an odd bass or two come in every day from the pier.

Catfishing in the Delta regions, with emphasis on the Grant Line Canal area, has attracted a large number of anglers this past week. Some dandy catches have been made. Black bass fishing in Clear Lake continued good both for the "tule-pokers" and the plug casters.

Baseballers Plan Banquet

Sausalito Little League will hold a "kickoff banquet" at 6:30 p.m., March 10 at Central School at which time Mrs. Glenola Taylor, the club's first woman president, will take over from outgoing president Dr. Robert M. Perleman.

Other new officers are James Muldoon, vice president; Mrs. Elaine Leggett, secretary; Frank Bosl, treasurer and R. K. (Swede) Pedersen, player agent.

The board of directors includes Williard A. Hall, Dr. Perlman, George R. Kowski, Edwin S. Long, John Pieraccini and Cassius W. Gilliam.

Bob Hope Plans Extravaganza On Sports Tonight

Hollywood (UPI) — Bob Hope, an eight-handicap golfer, will devote almost his entire television show tonight to sports. Hope also has come up with awards for the nation's outstanding athletes of 1960.

Among the recipients of statuettes which Hope describes as "Oscars with Muscles," are Arnold Palmer, golf's top money-winning pro; Joe Bellino, Navy's winning pro; Joe Bellino, Navy's All American football player; heavyweight boxing champion Floyd Patterson; pro football's Norm Van Brocklin; Wilt Chamberlain of the Philadelphia Warriors pro basketball team; Rafer Johnson, the Olympic decathlon champion

Hope, something of an institution in the entertainment world, hopes to make his sports award show an annual TV institution.

Palmer Gains In Money Winnings

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP)—Gary Player today remained as professional golfdom's top money winner, but his position proved to be rapidly eroding under Arnold Palmer's steady game.

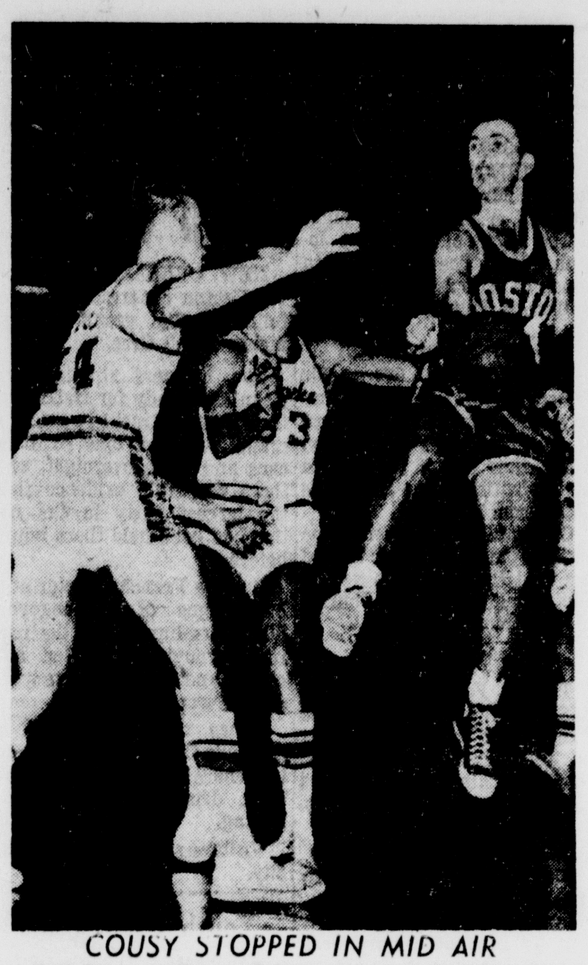

Player, a young pro from Johannesburg, South Africa, moved his total earnings up to $14,200 this week, winning $800 in the Phoenix Open.

Palmer, of Ligonier, Pa., picked up $4,300 first money for the Open to move from fourth to second spot in the rankings with $12,800.

The No. 3 man on the list released by the Professional Golfers Assn. headquarters at Dunedin, was Ken Venturi of Palo Alto, with $9,400. He was tied with Bob Rosburg of San Francisco.

Bob Goalby of Crystal River, Fla., held down sixth spot with $9,200.

$31,400 OK'd For Angling Access Site

State Wildlife Conservation Board has voted to spend $31,400 for an angling access site on Hudman Slough off Highway 37 near Scaggs Island Naval Base.

Bill Dillinger, public information officer for the Department of Fish and Game, said the board plans to construct a parking area, boat ramp and sanitary facilities for fishermen and hunters. The site will provide boat access to San Pablo Bay and many miles of sloughs and tidal channels, Dillinger said.

The site was proposed in 1958 by Sonoma civic and sportsmen's association, and is part of the state's yearly $75,000 program on inland access sites. Construction of the Hudman site will be by the wildlife board and maintenance by Sonoma County. Dillinger said it should be ready for sportsmen by late 1962 or at least by 1963.

Lindon Crow Signs Los Angeles Pact

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Defensive back Lindon Crew has signed his 1961 contract with the Los Angeles Rams.

The former Southern California star who has played pro football with the Chicago Cardinals and the New York Giants, was obtained from the Giants in a trade that sent quarterback Bill Wade of the Rams to the Chicago Bears.

Crow is regarded as one of the best defensive corner men in the National Football League.

CAGE WRITERS MEETING

Stanford Coach Says Bruins Equal To USC

PALO ALTO (UPI)—Stanford Coach Howie Dallmar thinks UCLA's basketball team is the equal of USC's quintet, even though his Indians lost to the Trojans and defeated the Bruins in weekend contests at Stanford.

He told the Northern California Basketball Writers Assn. yesterday that the Bruins had a slight edge in depth and jumping ability and that Stanford defeated the Bruins only because of "a fantastic shooting performance."

Stanford hit its first eight shots against UCLA and Card star John Windsor canned 30 points.

"It's been a long time," Dallmar said, "since we've had a player turn in such a single game performance as did Windsor. He played both ends of the court equally well."

Concerning the Trojans, the Stanford coach tabbed USC guard Chris Appel as the team's most underrated player. "He makes the team go," Dallmar said.

The writers named Windsor and San Francisco State's Jim Caranica as co-players of the week. Caranica scored 61 points in weekend games against Sacramento State and Nevada.

The writers also saw an award to Don Barksdale, who was given membership to the Helms Athletic Foundation hall of fame. Barksdale starred 15 years ago for UCLA and later went on to fame in AAU and professional basketball.

Barksdale, now a businessman and sports broadcaster, said he hopes to see professional basketball in San Francisco within two years and said that he is confident Bay Area fans would support a franchise.

Bill Hubbard, San Jose State faculty member and commissioner of officials for the West Coast Athletic Conference, defended basketball officials.

He said many good referees were quitting because of constant criticism. "Most of them don't need the money. They're in it for the love of the game," he said. The referees don't mind the fans or sports writers jabs so much as caustic comments from coaches, according to Hubbard.

Meeting Tonight

The San Rafael Fiveliners will meet tonight at 8 in the San Rafael High School cafeteria to discuss plans for the basketball banquet.

MARIN BOWLING

Country Club Bowl Is Still League Leader

Country Club Bowl is still leader in the North Bay Junior Travel League after action at Santa Rosa last week. Naves Lanes is in third spot, followed by Marin Bowl.

The exciting point of last weeks' contest at Holiday Bowl in Santa Rosa was the exhibition of 15-year-old Jerry Jackson of the host alley's junior all stars. The youth threw a sizzling unprecedented 771 series made up from games of 258, 267 and 246.

Other high scorers in that day's combat were Joan Mann of Greenbrae Lanes with a 222 and Paul Panholzer of Nave Lanes with 203.

Country Club Bowl had some high moments last week. One of the high scorers consistantly in Marin is "Scoop" Tullis, who last week burned in a 618 series with games of 204, 225, and 189.

High scorers last week in the Fairchild Mixed Four were Stan Chapman with a 237 single game and Wyman Owen with a 597 series. For the women, Nancy Walker chipped off a 185 single while Natalie De Beaumont compiled a 479 series.

In the Bell Ringers league had top bowlers Mike LaTorre run up a 223 single and a 594 series.

In AIB Mixed Fours Ken Christie threw a 214 single and a 552 series. Automotive HDCP League saw Stu Stevens take the honors with a 209 single and a 553 series. Mark Noon was leader of the Coca Cola Juniors as he rocketed a 568 series.

EASTER SEAL THEME BOY

Johnny Ellis, 9, of Placentia (Orange County), a lad who uses steel hooks for hands, but has a smile as big as the state of California, has been chosen California's 1961 Easter Seal theme boy. He was born without hands or arms, and has been trained to use artificial limbs. A third grader with a B average, Johnny has received therapy with funds collected from the sale of Easter Seals.

Board Of Education Studies Bus Problem

Possibility that the San Rafael Elementary School District may cut out some of its buses and pay some families a transportation rebate in lieu of bus service was raised at last night's board of education meeting.

Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson, in a report on transportation costs of elementary and high school districts, told the board that it cost $45,000 to operate its buses last year, will cost $55,000 this school year and is expected to cost $65,000 next year. The state rebated about $10,000 of last year's and $15,000 of this year's cost.

Two more buses will be needed next year, said Simpson.

On several of the elementary school bus routes, only a few of the children live far enough from school to be entitled to transportation by district policy. The practice is to run a bus to pick up those few, then fill it up with others who live near enough to walk to school.

(The district's policy is to provide bus transportation for children in kindergarten through third grade who live more than three-quarters of a mile from school, those in fourth through eighth grades who live more than three miles from school. State law requires transportation only for those living more than three miles from school.)

Board member Willard E. Vernon suggested those bus runs might be eliminated by paying a travel allowance to the few children who live outside the limits.

He suggested that any bus which picks up more than half its load inside the limits be cut off, and the in-lieu allowance paid.

Chairman C. Paul Bettini directed Simpson to prepare an estimate of the saving by such a system, along with a suggestion for a "realistic" travel allowance. In the few cases where such an allowance is paid, the school district now pays 35 cents per day. Board members thought this too low.

Also at last night's board of education meeting:

1. Sabbatical leaves were granted for next year to E. B. Gearhart, acting head of the business education department at San Rafael High School; his wife, Gladys, who is San Rafael High School librarian, and Patricia O'Brien, high school foreign language teacher. The Gearharts plan to visit libraries and business departments of schools in several parts of the U.S. and take a trip to Europe. Miss O'Brien will study in Spain and at the Sorbonne in Paris.

2. Sabbatical leave for the fall semester was granted Jules E. Chourre, San Rafael High School counselor, provided satisfactory arrangements can be made for his replacement for that period. Chourre wants to complete work on his master's degree.

4. Indications that Parent-Teacher Assn. pressure may result on San Rafael's adopting the system of hiring parents for lunch hour playground supervision came with letters endorsing such a scheme from the Coleman and Santa Venetia P-TAs. The Laurel Dell P-TA has taken a similar stand.

4. The board approved hiring of Mrs. Gretchen Austin to teach fifth grade at Gallinas School; Iris Fairlie, science at San Rafael High; Mrs. Virginia Douglas, second grade at West End; Robert Corrasco, Spanish and English at San Rafael High, and Mrs. Martha Kleimo, part-time language at Santa Venetia.

5. Resignations of Richard Olson, now on leave, and Patricia Hill, fourth grade teacher at Hartzell School, were accepted.

6. Mrs. Donna Carry was appointed secretary to Asst. Supt. Simpson, and Mrs June Crabb was appointed bus driver.

7. Payment of bills was authorized as follows: High school district, general fund $14,490; special reserve fund, $1,190; building fund $14,371; elementary school district, general fund $28,698; building fund $1,152. These do not include salary warrants.

Social Group Slates Dance

Two dances have been scheduled by the Marin Club, social organization for widowed and divorced persons over 21, it was announced today.

The first will be Friday at 9 p.m. in the Terrace Room of the Bermuda Palms Motel in San Rafael.

On March 3 at 9 p.m. a western style dance will be held at Rancho Nicasio in Nicasio. Calico dresses and jeans will be the dress for the evening. Both dances are open to non-members.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Territories Split

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The British-administered United Nations territories of North and South Cameroon have split in twin plebiscites. The northern sliver voted to rejoin Nigeria and the south decided to unite with the French-speaking republic of Cameroon.

Millions See Eclipse

LONDON (UPI) — The moon passed between the sun and the earth early today, causing an eclipse which was visible to millions of Europeans on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

Scientists observed the eclipse from mountaintops or high-flying planes.

The eclipse was total for two to two and one-half minutes along a 1,000-mile path running from southern Spain eastward into Siberia. No other eclipse is scheduled to be visible in that area until 2081.

Williams To Africa

WASHINGTON (UPI)—G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, left today for a month-long trip to a dozen African nations—including the explosive Congo.

Williams said he received "instructions" from President John F. Kennedy during a meeting yesterday. But he would not disclose them.

Gets Fast Action

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Suda Weddington got fast action when she appeared before city officials to complain the street in front of her house was dirty. They gave her a broom, explaining the street budget was limited.

Change In Currency

CAPETOWN, South Africa (UPI)—South Africa changed its currency from the traditional pound sterling basis to a decimal system yesterday.

Instead of pounds, shillings, and pence, there are now rands and cents. A rand is equal to 10 shillings ($1.40) and is divided into 100 cents. Under the old system, there were 20 shillings to the pound and 12 pence to the shilling.

May Ban Death Penalty

RALEIGH, N.C. (UPI)—North Carolina's 1961 General Assembly may soon consider a bill aimed at eliminating capital punishment in the state.

Two legislators—Reps. W. C. Harris Jr. and H. P. Taylor Jr.—said yesterday they had prepared a bill which would abolish death sentences except in the case of a prisoner serving a life term who committed another capital crime while in prison.

To Venus Earlier

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet rocket to Venus is expected to reach its destination more than a month sooner than originally estimated because its speed has been reduced.

Soviet astronaut Ari Sternfeld said yesterday the revised forecast will bring the rocket into its approach to the earth's "sister" planet about 38 to 44 days sooner than was predicted when the rocket was launched last Sunday. The estimated time of arrival now is mid or late April instead of late May, Sternfeld said. He explained that by slowing down, the rocket actually will have less distance to cover because of the spacial relationship between Earth and Venus.

The Agricultural Extension Service was established in 1914.

Ike's Japan Trip

TOKYO (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and his wife will come to Japan sometime in October, Japanese sources assisting in arrangements for the visit said today.

Face Drug Charges

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Two members of Duke Ellington's band face preliminary hearings April 19 on narcotics charges.

Saxophonist Paul Gonsalvez, 40, and trumpeter William R. Nance, 41, were arraigned yesterday on charges of illegal possession of narcotics. Arraignment was delayed for a third musician, trumpeter John Willie Cook, 36, also arrested with the others in a raid by sheriff's deputies last week.

Arrests In Havana

HAVANA (UPI)—Premier Fidel Castro's government announced last night it has arrested dozens of suspected "counter-revolutionaries" in raids in and around Havana.

Announcement of the arrests coincided with reports of heavy fighting in the Escambray Mountains of central Cuba, suggesting that anti-Castro guerrillas were trying to break through troops cordoning the area. Castro himself led a Saturday-night raid on a boarding house here in which 53 persons were arrested.

Hosts Kennedys

WASHINGTON (AP) — President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy attended a dinner last night at the home of columnist Joseph Alsop. The party was in honor of Alsop's fiancee, Mrs. William S. Patten.

Winnie Loses Pet

MONTE CARLO (UPI) — Sir Winston Churchill today offered a $10 reward for the return of his pet parakeet, Toby, which flew out of its cage in the ex-British prime minister's hotel room suite.

Churchill's valet opened the cage to put some water in and the bird flew the coop yesterday. Hotel sources said Churchill was "most upset."

Art From China

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — The U.S. destroyer tender Bryce Canyon left the Formosa port of Keelung today with more than 200 Chinese art treasures to be shown in U.S. museums.

New Trial Date Due

JERUSALEM (AP) — A new date for the opening of the Adolf Eichmann trial probably will be announced next week and it is assumed it will be about April 12, a high source said today.

Court officials reportedly agreed to lawyer Robert Servatius's request for more time to prepare the defense of the former Nazi as the mastermind of the killing of millions of Jews.

New Orleans Somber After Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Somber Lenten observations today followed the year's wildest night—Mardi Gras.

The business streets were clean and ready for traffic before dawn. Street-cleaning crews removed tons of beer cans and trash overnight, and there was little evidence that the largest party in the nation had been held there hours before.

But the French Quarter still bore signs of a hangover. Streamers hung from the narrow, wrought-iron railed balconies, and street-cleaners were still at work.

Ashes were distributed at St. Louis Cathedral in the quarter where last night there had been drinking, dancing and kissing.

Visitors streamed out of the city.

Youth Used Drugs

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Of 14,246 California Youth Authority wards on parole and in institutions as of May 31, 1960, 2,480 or 17.4 per cent had been involved wit hsuch drugs as heroin, cocaine and marijuana, according to a report from a legislative study committee.

NO TURFING, FENCING

Board Votes To Keep Up Lot At High School

The San Rafael Board of Education moved last night to clean up one of the city's major eyesores.

The board gave the go-ahead to filling, grading and placing of topsoil on the block which runs from High Street to Union Street and from Third to Mission, directly in front of the high school.

The block contains the school district administration building, a walkway which is often half submerged—and a swamp.

The schoolmen had been ready to move earlier on the project, but were waiting for the City of San Rafael to install a storm drain and storm water pump at Third and High Streets. Bids on that project were too far above estimates, so the city council rejected them all.

Last night, Asst. Supt. Raymond J. Simpson informed the board of education that the city engineer's office has redesigned the drainage project so that the storm sewer will not run through the center of the school property, and hopes to have pump and line installed by June 30 The pump will be located near te No. 2 firehouse at Third and Union Streets, he said.

Simpson said the area could be graded so that it would barely drain, and with addition of 200 cubic yards of topsoil, a two-acre portion, to include a baseball field, could be turfed. He recommended this portion also be fenced. Total cost, including an automatic sprinkler system, would run to $11,000, he estimated.

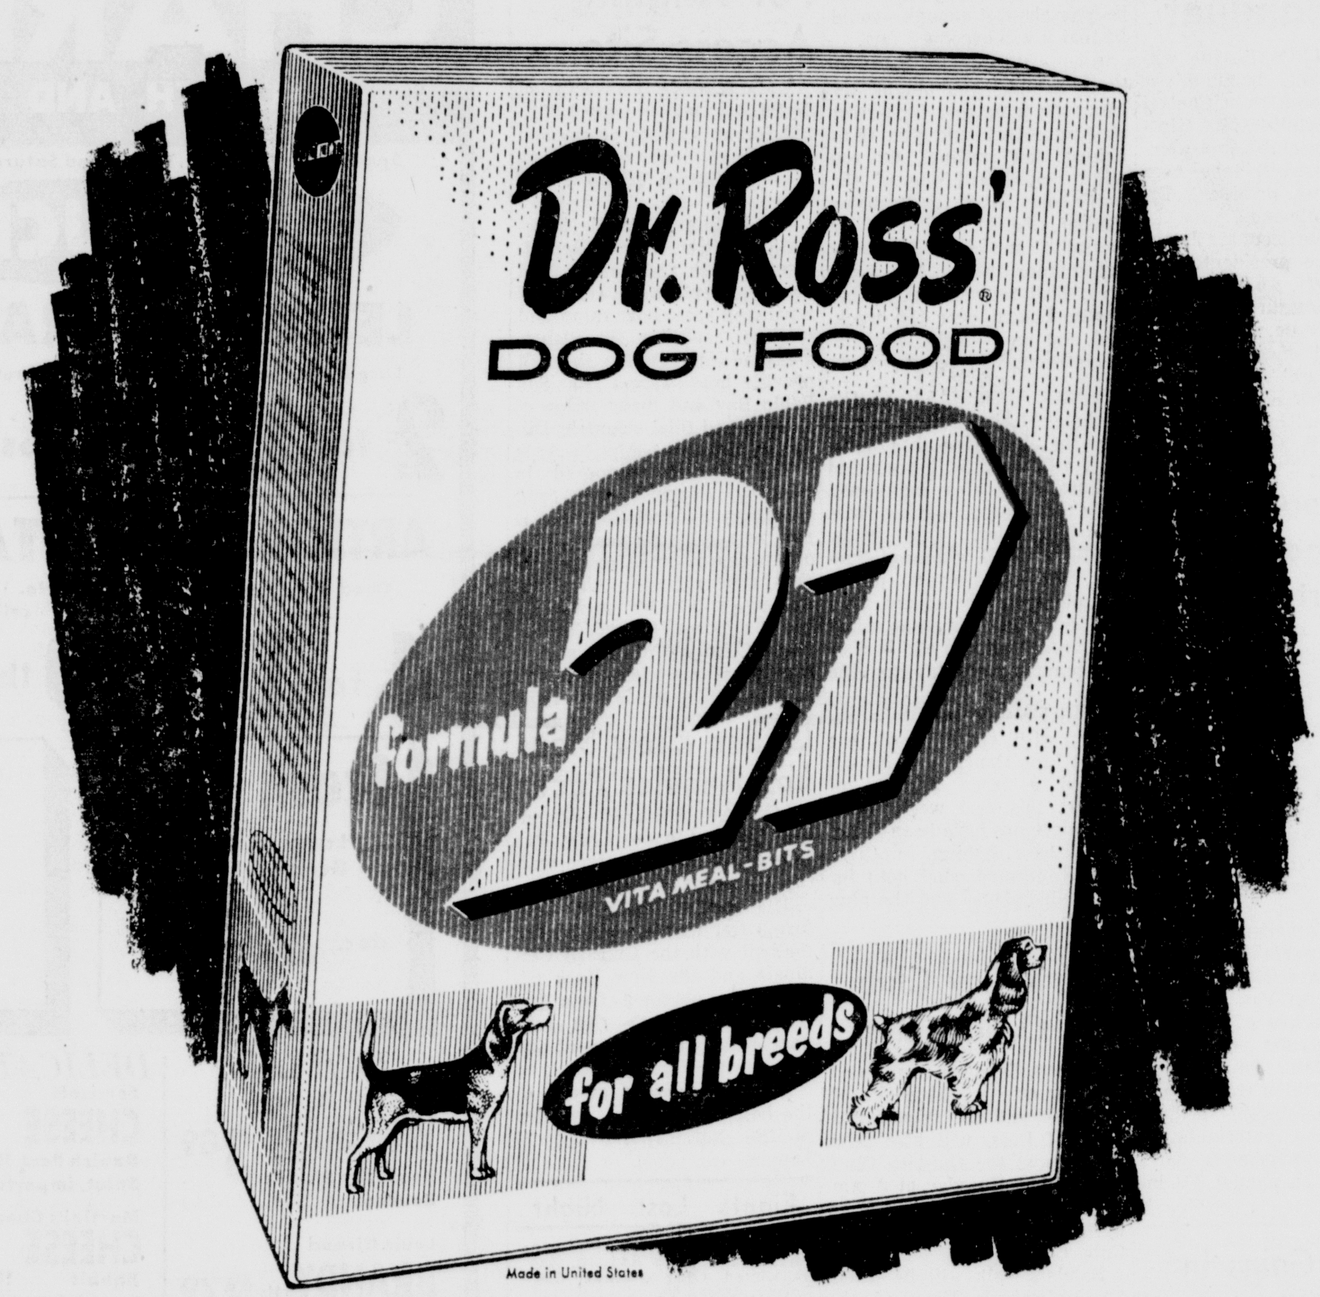

The board moved more cautiously. On suggestion of board member Rex Silvernale, it directed that the grading be done, the topsoil installed and the whole area planted temporarily to perennial rye grass. This would cut the immediate cost to around $4,000.

Simpson said the fence would be needed to keep out hot-rodders and motorcyclists. ("At Terra Linda High," he said, "the problem is different; there it's horses.") But the board decided the fencing could come later.

SPRUCE UP SPRING MENUS with fruits! These festive dishes—all surprising quick and inexpensive—use canned cling peaches, fresh California dates and canned fruit cocktail to bring fresh color and flavor accents to favorite foods. "Elegant Fruited Chicken" is a simple but sophisticated way to prepare chicken breasts. The tangy-sweet, fruited sauce is the perfect complement to tender, juicy chicken. The favorite canned cling peach and cottage cheese salad looks new—and tastes new—when served in a teacup! Add a few sliced strawberries for bright color and serve with your favorite dressings. "Teacup Peach Salad" is easy to make. Just tuck tiny sprigs of romaine or other salad greens in a teacup; spoon in cottage cheese and arrange fruits on top. Individual loaves of "Quick Date Bread" are attractive to serve with this unusual salad—or slices of the good bread if you prefer to bake a single large loaf. Softened cream cheese makes a delicious spread for this wonderfully moist bread made with fresh dates. If you are planning lobster, tuna, chicken or a similar entree salad, serve it with a compote of "Lemon Spiced Fruits." Handsome fresh California dates and canned cling peach halves are treated in a marinade of lemon spiced syrup. These tangy fruits are just right with sea food or other meat or fish salad combinations.

Fruits Add Flavor To Spring Menus

Spruce up your table for spring with colorful and festive fruit dishes which bring delightful accents to your culinary feats.

LEMON SPICED FRUITS

1 (1lb. 13 oz.) can cling peach halves
¾ cup syrup from peaches
¼ cup lemon juice
4 or 5 lemon slices
½ cup brown sugar (packed)
Few grains salt
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ginger
½ cup pitted fresh California dates

Drain peaches, saving syrup. Combine ¾ cup peach syrup, lemon juice and slices, brown sugar, salt and spices in a saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer five minutes. Remove from heat, let stand five minutes. Pour over peaches and dates in a bowl or jar. Cover and let stand several hours or overnight. Makes about six servings.

QUICK DATE BREAD

1 cup fresh California dates
½ cup almonds (optional)
3 cups biscuit mix
½ cup sugar
1 egg, beaten
1¼ cups milk
1 teaspoon grated orange rind

Pit and cut dates in small pieces; chop nuts. Measure biscuit mix and sugar into mixing bowl; stir to blend. Add eggs, milk and orange rind. Beat well, about one-half minute. Stir in dates and nuts. Spoon into greased and floured 9x5x3 inch loaf pan or into small pans about 5x3x1½ inches for individual loaves. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 50 to 55 minutes for large loaf, about 40 minutes for small loaves. Turn out and cool loaves before cutting. Makes 1 large or 5 small loaves.

ELEGANT FRUITED CHICKEN

4 or 5 chicken breasts
1 teaspoon seasoned salt
1 teaspoon paprika
½ teaspoon ginger
⅓ cup shortening (half butter or margarine)
Fruited Sauce

FRUITED SAUCE

1 (1 lb.) can fruit cocktail
¾ cup syrup from fruit cocktail
⅓ cup orange juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
2 teaspoons vinegar
½ teaspoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon cornstarch
1 tablespoon rich drippings from chicken

Bone chicken breasts, using small, sharp knife; remove skin. Season chicken with mixture of seasoned salt, paprika and ginger. Place chicken in heated shortening; cook over moderate heat until rich golden brown. Turn, cover and continue cooking until chicken is tender. Serve with hot Fruited Sauce.

Fruited Sauce: Drain fruit cocktail, saving syrup. Combine syrup from cocktail, orange juice, brown sugar, vinegar, soy sauce and cornstarch in saucepan. Bring to a boil, lower heat and simmer until clear and thickened. Stir in drippings; add drained fruits. Makes four or five servings.

Soups Are Especially Good During This Damp Weather

During damp weather, soups taste especially good.

Mrs. Adina Robinson, home economics instructor at Drake High School in San Anselmo, provided these recipes:

MINESTRONI

3 knuckle bones, shank bone and meat
1 can of kidney beans
½ lg. can of stewed tomatoes
1 cup of macaroni
3 chopped celery stalks
1 onion, chopped
Seasoning — salt, pepper, onion salt and garlic salt
1 cup of water

Cook soup bones, meat, celery and onion together. Remove bones and fat. Add kidney beans, water and macaroni, then seasoning. Next day add tomatoes.

BORSCHT
(Cabbage Soup)

1 pkg. beef shank
4 bones (knuckle, marrow)
2 bayleaves
4 peppercorns
½ head of cabbage
1 can of tomatoes with juice (stewed tomatoes)
1 tablespoon flour (mix together)
¼ cup milk
Salt (season to taste)

Cook beef shank, bones, bayleaves, and peppercorns in enough water to cover the bones. Add a little amount of salt.

Cook for about four hours. Take out the bones, bayleaves, peppercorns and skim off some of the fat not all of it. Add tomatoes and juice, cook for 10 minutes, then add cabbage for another 10 minutes. Add flour and milk mixture.

Cook all ingredients together for about five minutes more.

BEAN SOUP

1 cup dried white beans
4 cups water, boiling
⅔ cup diced salt pork
1 onion, chopped
3 stalks celery, chopped
1 teaspoon salt
few grains of cayenne pepper
5 cups water
1 frankfurter thinly sliced

Wash beans and sort for quality. Pour into four cups boiling water; remove from heat and soak covered for four to five hours. Cook salt pork in large frying pan until light brown. Add onion and continue cooking until onion is golden, stirring once or twice. Add beans (drained), celery, seasoning and five cups water to pork and onion; simmer until beans are tender. Add additional water if desired. Add frankfurter slices.

VEGETABLE SOUP

6 cups—1½ quarts meat stock
3-3½ teaspoons salt
2-3 peppercorns
¾ cup finely diced carrots
¾ cup finely diced turnips or celery.
1 cup finely diced potatoes
2 cups tomato pulp and juice
¾ cup chopped cabbage
¼ cup green beans
¼ cup chopped onion

Boil soup bones (one or two chunks of shank). Heat meat stock in large kettle and add seasonings. Add vegetables to stock. Boil stock mixture, cover, for 15 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Simmer soup five to ten minutes more.

CREAM OF MUSHROOM SOUP

¼ pound whole mushrooms or 1⅛ cup minced mushrooms and stems
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon minced onion
¼ teaspoon seeds
2 chicken boullion cubes
2 cups boiling water
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
3 tablespoon flour
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon salt
⅛ tablespoon pepper

Wash whole mushrooms, chop fine. Add one tablespoon butter, onion, and celery seeds. Simmer, cover five minutes, add boullion cubes, boiling water; simmer, uncover 10 minutes.

In double boiler top over direct heat, melt one tablespoon butter. Add flour; stir until smooth, add milk, salt, pepper. Cook over boiling water, stir until thickened. Add mushroom mixture; heat. Makes six servings.

ORANGE SPONGE LAYER CAKE

1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
Salt
6 large eggs (separated)
1½ cups sugar
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
⅔ cup orange juice

Sift together the flour, baking powder and a dash of salt. Beat egg yolks rapidly with electric mixer until thick and lemon colored; gradually beat in sugar until ivory colored. Beat in orange rind and juice thoroughly, then sifted flour mixture. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into two 9-inch layer-cake pans. Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 35 to 40 minutes or until top of cake springs back when lightly touched with finger. Cool in pans placed on racks, then ease out of pans. Fill and frost as desired.

Redwood Bazaar Will Feature Recipes For Foreign Cuisine

Shoppers in the gourmet section of the International Intrigue Bazaar at Redwood High School Saturday will be able to "have their cake and eat it, too," according to Mrs. George Banning, "Take Home" food booth chairman for the American Field Service Benefit. This will be accomplished by attaching the recipe, representative of a foreign cuisine, to the attractively packaged food items.

Stressing the idea that unusual foreign delicacies need not involve the cook in an expensive excursion to spice-laden caravans for exotic ingredients, Mrs. Banning then went on to share a recipe that at first glance sounds like the product of the cauldron of a Swedish witch. Spurning the charmed couplet, "Double, double, toil and trouble; Fire burn and cauldron bubble," cheerful committee members who met for a testing and tasting spree at Mrs. Banning's Belvedere home recently, pronounced the traditional Swedish fish a real treat.

LUTFISK
(Dried Imported Cod)

2½ pounds lutfisk
1 cup slaked lime
2 quarts oak or maple ashes

Saw fish in 3 parts, clean thoroughly and place in wooden bowl or pail. Add water to cover and set in a cool place five to six days. Change water several times. Remove fish and thoroughly clean wooden bowl. Make a solution of water, lime and ashes and allow to stand overnight. Drain off clear liquid and pour over soaked fish, set in cool place for seven days. When fish is soft, remove from solution, scrub bowl well and soak fish for several days in cold clear water. Cook in boiling salted water at simmering temperature for about 20 minutes. Drain well and serve. This is served with white or mustard sauce. Allow ⅓ pound per person.

Committee members who are gathering foreign dishes, including cakes, breads, casseroles and other favorites for the big bazaar, include Mesdames Donald Nelson, Sidney Campbell, David Schug, and Arthur F. Bridge. Assisting with the staffing of the booth on Saturday will be Redwood student volunteers Pam Dana, Julie Banning, and Janet de Berry.

Offering a personal recipe suitable for the Patisserie section, devoted to keeping bazaar guests happily nourished while they promenade through the exhibits, Mlle. Jacqueline, one of Redwood's AFS students, gives us her formula for crepes. The young native of LeMans, France, has been delighting her American family, the William Gilberts of Corte Madera, with examples of French cuisine. Mrs. Gilbert says they have some difficulty in translating Jacque's French recipes, adjusting measurements in grams, and litres to the more accustomed nomenclature of American cooking.

CREPES A LA JACQUELINE

2 cups milk
1 tbs. sugar
1 tsp. vanilla
Pinch of salt
3 tbs. butter
Cognac or rum for flavor

Place flour, eggs, milk, sugar, vanilla and salt in mixing bowl. Mix well. Add melted butter. It should be a thin batter, easily poured. It is better if made some hours in advance of cooking. Heat small frying pan quite hot, and lightly grease with butter. Pour enough batter to make thin covering, tipping pan so that batter covers bottom. When brown on one side, turn and brown other side. Remove from pan. Butter and sift or sprinkle powdered sugar over warm surface. Roll. Repeat until batter is all used. Keep warm until serving time. May be served with rum or cognac, poured over and lighted at the table just before serving. Jacqueline advises, if the first pancake seems too thin, add a litle more flour. If it seems too thick, add a little more milk.

Black-Eyed Corn

Ripe olives are the surprise. Use them to perk up flavor and appearance of corn dishes. Add quartered, pitted ripe olives to a can of corn and heat. Or, fold chopped ripe olives into corn bread batter (use a mix for real speed). Good in scalloped corn, too. For Black-Eyed Susans, stick a whole ripe olive in the center of corn muffins before baking. Try a little experimenting on your own, too. Example—ripe olives added to your favorite casserole.

IN A COMIC EGYPTIAN wig and purple Egyptian costume, Sen. John F. McCarthy welcomed guests as a slave fanning Queen Cleopatra, Mrs. Alex Bovee, at Saturday night's Safari Shuffle at the Meadow Club. Hosts for the benefit affair to aid a Maryknoll Missioner were Senator and Mrs. McCarthy.

EXCHANGING COMPLIMENTS on costumes for the Shuffle affair are from left, Lawrence Luchetti, Mrs. Guy Ciocca, Mrs. Robert Quinlan, Robert Quinlan and Mrs. Luchetti. For the occasion, the ballroom of the Meadow Club was transformed into an Egyptian Palace highlighted by an 18-foot high mural and numerous pastel murals.

Safari Shuffle Rivals Pyramids In Enchantments, Color, Glamor

A sell-out crowd gasped, laughed at and applauded the magnitude of the Egyptian decor, the gay colorful costumes and the enchanting show presented at the Safari Shuffle on the Nile Saturday night at the Meadow Club.

From the moment guests entered the Land of the Pharoahs, attention to detail to create Egyptian atmosphere gave immediate evidence that many slaves had worked many hours to achieve a production that rivaled the pyramids in grandeur.

The comic touch, the signature of hosts Sen. and Mrs. John F. McCarthy, delighted guests as an Egyptian slave, Mike Dolan, helped them through sassy mummy case doors. Greeting the Safarites as they emerged into Cleopatra's glamorous palatial boudoir through blue sheer drapes was hostess, Mummy Ursula, not only clad in a mummy costume but actually flitting in and out of a real mummy case.

CLEOPATRA'S SLAVE

True to his commitment to be Cleopatra's slave, Jack, in a comic Egyptian wig and purple Egyptian costume, welcomed guests as a slave fanning his bewitching Queen Cleopatra played by Mrs. Alex Bovee. Audible gasps escaped the guests as they beheld the enchantress of the Nile in an authentic dazzling costume that highlighted the queen's charms.

Breathtaking was the view of the ballroom transformed into an Egyptian palace by the artistry of Mrs. Lawrence Luchetti and Mrs. Frank Vanderbilt. The cartoons of the McCarthy children playing on the 18-foot-high Sphinx mural and comic captions under the pastel murals of typical scenes of Egyptian life prompted much laughter and conversation.

Into this magical setting the guests arrived competing in impact with their imaginative and entertaining costumes. Among the outstanding costumes portraying pharoahs and their queens, dancing slave girls, Caesar and Anthony, and sheiks of the desert were those worn by the Messrs. and Mesdames William Bagley, he as Anthony, Doris as Cleopatra; Earl Bellamy (up from Los Angeles), he romantic in a sheik costume complete with beard from his television studio costume department, Marjane in dark Egyptian make-up and exotic costume; Jackson Bennett (Genevieve as a slave girl actually chained to her Egyptian master); Walter Castro Jr, Rolph Crocker, Doug Daley (up from Los Angeles), he as rogue of the resert, handsome in his beard, and Bettina alluring in peacock blue sari; Frank Drager, George Epperson, Scott Hardie, Richard Hardin, Vince Kennedy (Selma in a gorgeous Egyptian costume from Egypt), John Lesoine (Florence gamorous in dark make-up and enticing veil that revealed sparkling eyes), Ed Malley, John Cruden, Lawrence Luchetti, Bernard O'Kane, Ted Pannier, Robert Quinlan (Florence be-jeweled in a siren costume), Herold Ruel (Dorothea as Queen Hepshashut), Ray Shone (Marianne radiant with many jewels of the Nile on her imaginative costume), Milton Schwartz (he smiling profusely from under his flowing Pharoah robes and Mary elegant in queen's robes that sported a gold snake on her authentic headpiece), Carroll Snyker, Ray Schmidt, Russell Spatz, Owen Sullivan (he truly resplendent as Ramses II and Gloria as his gorgeous queen), Captain and Mrs. M. W. Verran, and Mrs. Jean Hill luscious as a dancing girl in silver lame and Mrs. Guy Ciocca radiant in a jeweled headpiece and colorful chiffon costume.

Noted also among the imaginative headpieces were those worn by the Walter Coynes and Edmund Coynes and the Robert Ilgs. Mrs. Spence Wood wore a plaque on her back with pictures of her three children and the sign read: "I am mummy of these."

FIT FOR QUEEN

After dancing the show "fit for a queen" delighted guests who sat informally on the floor of the ballroom. In a glamorous yellow chiffon slave girl costume Lisa Johnston and her husband Roy as a modern diplomat in a striking royal blue satin bejewelled turban thrilled the audience with a medley of romantic songs from "Kismet" and were called back for encores.

Perhaps the biggest surprise of the evening was the exotic Egyptian dance performed by Mrs. Alex Bovee, Mrs. Raymond Schmidt and Ursula McCarthy. Mummy hostess Ursula changed into a blue chiffon slave girl costume and literally let her long hair down to join Bonnie Schmidt in her bewitching white chiffon slave girl costume and Derna Bovee as the dazzling Cleopatra in a dance that provoked whistles from the appreciative audience.

New Food Section For AAUW Branch

A new foods and nutrition study section stressing food values and consumer research was recently established by the Mill Valley Branch of the American Association of University Women under the leadership of Mrs. John Radovich.

Formation of the group resulted from the branch's preparation of its cook book and from a talk by state consumer counsel Helen Ewing Nelson, who is a member of the branch. One of its purposes will be to cooperate with Mrs. Nelson.

FOCUS SHOW TO HONOR VOLUNTEERS

"Fashions Focus," the weekly luncheon at Rickey's, goes out on a fashionable limb on Tuesday to face facts in an apologetic take off on George Washington's youthful predicament.

Aiding the cause of unabashed veracity in this beautiful spring in a search for the right fashions regardless of size and age will be the Marin Volunteers honored as the organization of the week for their outstanding work with the Senior Citizens of Marin.

For those who think they are a size 12, wish they were a size 12, or know they never will be a 12, a Marin shop will prove that honesty is indeed the best policy! Honesty, that is, in facing the facts and the figure you have to work with and progressing from there.

The Marin Volunteers will also add on Tuesday "we cannot tell a lie" . . meaning that staffing their thrift shop Trade Whims in the Senior Citizens Center on Fourth Street, San Rafael, is difficult, and they welcome into membership civic minded women of Marin who wish to share in this new project and have the satisfaction of giving of themselves so that the Seniors can benefit.

Reservations to enjoy the Tuesday Fashions Focus luncheon are open to the public and may be made by calling Rickeys. Luncheon is served at 12:30 with the fashions at 1 p.m.

Many Parties To Mark Communion

Many parties were held Sunday on the Tiburon Peninsula to celebrate first communion which was made at the 9 a.m. mass by second graders in St. Hilary's Parish.

Mr. and Mrs. John Kampmeyer of Sioux City, Iowa, are visiting the John Kampmeyers Jr. of Hawthorne Terrace. The latter entertained in honor of their daughter, Lisa, at brunch, which was attended by the Robert Knoxes of Greenbrae.

In honor of their son John, the Robert Vallees entertained his godmother Mrs. May Morrissey of San Francisco; his godfather, John Vallee with his wife and family of Novato and his grandparents Mrs. Myrtle Vallee and Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Berini.

The James Knoxes of Hawthorne Terrace entertained at brunch Mrs. Clarence Cummins, grandmother of their daughter Carolyn, a first communicant, and Mrs. Glory Stevens and her daughter Joanne.

Honoring their son Paul, the Henry Schubarts of Tiburon invited his godmother Mrs. Mary O'Connell and a great aunt, Mrs. Florence Keenan both of Antioch.

A luncheon for their daughter Beth was given by Mr. and Mrs. John Remak of Little Reed Heights. Guests included the William Remaks and their neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byrnes and children and Dr. and Mrs. Gerard Sheldon.

Kelly Wheeler Jr. was feted by his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Kelly Wheeler of Belveron Gardens at brunch. Guests included grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Vandiveer and Mr. and Mrs. Tod Bates. Also included were godfather Raleigh Wheeler with his wife and children and godmother Mrs. William Ellian from Redwood City with her husband and family.

Also in Belveron Gardens a brunch was given by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Howard for their daughter Theresa. Attending were Mrs. G. F. Aguilar, her grandmother, Mr. and Mrs. George Oldenbourg, her godparents from Berkeley and Mr. and Mrs. Manuel Rivera from Oakland.

Honoring their daughter Darby, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Auerbach entertained the Louis Arnones of San Rafael, the Rev. Finks of Belvedere, the William McBrides of San Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. L. Gianella, materinal grandparents from San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Wallace in honor of daughter, Karey, entertained her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen of Morgan Hill, the Ed Burkes of Sacramento and the Leonard Burke family also of Sacramento.

The L. Joseph Kellers and the Frank Brooks and their families joined together for a family brunch at the Keller home in honor of their daughters Barbara and Peggy. Also attending was Barbara's godmother and aunt, Mrs. J. W. Spry from Alameda.

Several families chose to go out for dinner. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Jim James who, in honor of the occasion, took son Douglas and the family out for brunch and a day in the city ending with dinner in Chinatown.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Cohen entertained for their daughter Nicollete at the Edgewater Inn. Among the friends invited to the brunch were Mrs. Eleanor Lewis of Belvedere and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Simmons of San Jose. Mrs. Simmons is a native of India.

It was especially significant day for first Communicant Lynn Bedilion for Lynn was the last baby baptized at Old St. Hilary's, on the hill above Tiburon. Her mother and father Mr. and Mrs. Bernard T. Bedilion went out for brunch with Lynn's aunt Mrs. Michael Brady and her three boys and friends Mr. and Mrs. William Jacobson.

Jewish Sisterhood Plans Show-Lunch

The regular meeting of the Marin Jewish Community Center Sisterhood on Thursday, Feb. 26, will start with a lasagne luncheon and end with a fashion show of hand knits.

In between will be sandwiched a meeting in which will be discussed the ever widening program of the Center. Mrs. Lowell S. Simon will preside.

The Jewish Center has a program which is constantly expanding with the needs in the community. The nursery school which was started as an experiment some time ago, has had to be enlarged and expects to be able to include more children soon. School holidays have been a challenge to the Center, and how to fill up the youngster's spare time constructively, and this is also being handled well. Programs both cultural and "for fun" are being carefully sought out, both for the youth and the adults and will be added as the director, Louis Maier can do so. The Sisterhood lends a hand to help whenever they are called upon.

The luncheon will be at 12 noon, at the Center, Mission and Forbes; chairmen are Mrs. Lalla Smith and Mrs. Harry Yaffee. Tables will be decorated by Mrs. Kurt Rosenthal in their colors of spring. Mrs. Della DeMoss, vice president, is in charge of co-ordinating the luncheon.

The fashion show of hand knits by a San Anselmo shop, coordinated with ski clothes by Dawson's, will have among the models Mesdames Wilfred Cohen, George Coburn, David Lapidus, Kurt Rosenthal, Lowell S. Simon, Miss Corky Jones and Joseph Land.

Tamalpais High Club Installation

Tamalpais High School's Art and Music Clubs will install officers jointly at a dinner to be held tomorrow in the cafeteria from 6 to 8 p.m.

Following the installation and initiation of new members various members will entertain.

Tamalpais Centre Greets Newcomers

New members of Tamalpais Centre Woman's Club will be honored at a 12:30 luncheon on Friday at the clubhouse. Mrs. William MacKay, president, will extend the official welcome to the new members who will be introduced by their sponsors who will give brief summaries of their background and activities.

For the program following the luncheon, Mrs. Russell Wolcott of Ross, club member will give her impressions of her recent European trip.

Mrs. Francis C. Allen, past president of the club is chairman of the luncheon. She will be assisted by Mesdames C. C. Miller, Cornelius Van Vuren, B. P. McCarthy, W. G. Sears, F. M. Morris, Walter Shawyer, George Jones, Lewis E. DuPree and Miss Valerie Ansel.

How to
OUTWIT YOUR APPETITE

Try The Profile Bread Method Of "Planned Nibbling" To Help Avoid Overeating At The Table And Going On Wild Calorie Binges Between Meals

IF you want to avoid overeating at meals, or avoid going on hog-wild calorie binges between meals—then the "Profile Bread Method" to outwit your appetite may prove most helpful.

Because the Profile Bread Method depends upon "planned nibbling"—a dietetic approach to the problem of overeating.

"PLANNED NIBBLING"

Many dieticians recognize the same principle in "planned nibbling." Which means eating about 150 calories of any carbohydrate-protein food about 30 minutes before a meal. Or, when tempted, between meals. The carbohydrate acts fast; the protein keeps working longer.

Try a tablespoonful of sugar in a half glass of skim milk. Or a couple of slices of Profile Bread. Or a slice of Profile with jam on it. Anything light that spoils your appetite and keeps you from overeating at the table or between meals.

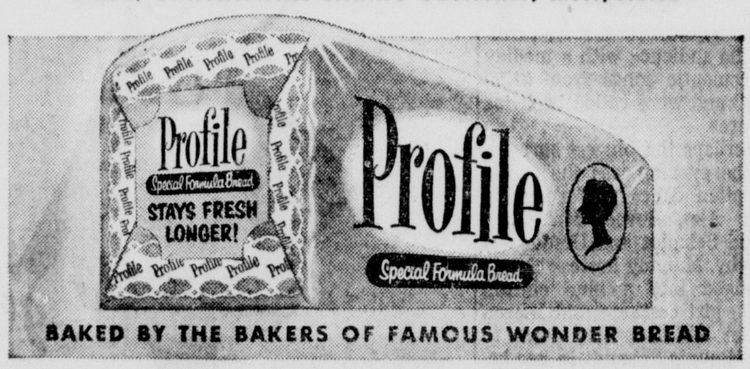

PROFILE BREAD

Profile Bread contains about 40% more complete protein than many white breads. It's flecked with tiny bits of cracked wheat and the flavor is fine—plain or toasted.

In addition, Profile Bread is fortified with calcium, phosphorus, iron and Vitamins B_1, B_2 and niacin, and has about 65 calories per slice. For "planned nibbling" you may find Profile Bread ideal.

Get a loaf of Profile Bread fresh at your favorite grocer's today. And try the Profile Bread Method of "planned nibbling" to outwit your appetite. You may be very glad you did.

FORGET-ME-NOTS

Junior Members Of Unit Make Valentine Favors

Junior members of Twin Cities American Legion Auxiliary Unit 313 carried out projects for the hospitalized at its recent meeting.

Tray mats gaily decorated with cupids and red hearts with messages of "Be My Val-100 trays. Nut cups for another 100 trays were decorated with blue Forget-Me-Nots.

Both items were prepared to brighten the Valentine trays of hospitalized at the Imola State Hospital in Napa County.

Acting as honor guard for the advancing of the United States Flag were guest members of the day, Bonnie Sutherland and Karen Nichols of Corte Madera.

Asking the special invocation for a blessing upon leaders of all youth groups was Miss Sharon Lang of Corte Madera, followed by group singing of the Star Spangled Banner. Junior member Dorie Young presented her guest Jacqueline Lippitt of Corte Madera.

To acquaint local high school students in need of scholarship aids and grants, Junior members Ruth Brinton, Carol Ann Olmstead and Dorie Young were assigned to present to the town libraries of Corte Madera, Novato and Larkspur the American Legion's educational pamphlets, "Need a Lift"—a guide listing career information, scholarships and loans to qualifying students in various states of the Nation.

At the March meeting of Juniors, the radio-television poll will be taken for the Auxiliary's annual "Golden Mike Award" program to list best programs in both media conducted annually among its nearly 1,000,000 members.

Meat Tenderizer As A Versatile Seasoning

You can use it in your turkey stuffing. And you can sprinkle it on all surfaces of your turkey before roasting.

Fairfax Club To Celebrate 'Birthday'

Fairfax Women's Club will celebrate its forty-eighth "birthday" at the meeting on Tuesday, Feb. 21 at the clubhouse. The club's first meetings were held in the little old schoolhouse which has been torn down.

The program for the afternoon will be a book review with a lecture and a radio broadcast by Mrs. Stuart LeRoy Anderson of Berkeley. She will review the humorous book, "Aunt Jane McFits and Her Pale Blue Ships." Mrs. Anderson, member of the faculty of the Pacific School of Religion, is widely known as a lecturer and book reviewer.

The program, obtained by Mrs. Lloyd E. Spencer, starts at 1:30 p.m. Tea will follow. It will be served by a committee composed of Mrs. Paul A. Hammer, chairman, who will be assisted by Mesdames L. B. Schlosser, J. W. Inness, Louis L. Nolin and C. Jules Schneider.

The same committee, with the exception of Mrs. Hammer, served refreshments following the club's recent business meeting which was conducted by Mrs. George Jones, president. The afternoon was spent playing cards.

Janet Doyle Wed In Evening Rites

St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo was the setting for the 7 o'clock ceremony of the recent wedding of Janet Loretta Doyle and Carl William Hawk Jr.

Rev. John Cunningham of Marin Catholic High School, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Doyle of San Anselmo, was given in marriage by her father. Her white satin gown had a short bell-shaped skirt. A satin bow was at the waist and the sleeves were bracelet length. Her short illusion veil was held in place by a dainty pearl coronet. She carried a white prayer book topped with white orchids and wore a necklace of small pearls which are a family heirloom, having belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. Margaret O'Rourke of San Anselmo.

Karen O'Rourke was her cousin's maid of honor and Kathleen Doyle her sister's bridesmaid. They wore sheath dresses of Romance Blue silk with matching headpieces and carried old-fashioned bouquets of yellow carnations and baby roses.

James Newhoff of Ross was Carl's best man and Ronald O'Rourke of San Francisco acted as usher. Bill Doyle, brother of the bride, and Allen Bersaglieri were altar boys.

The bride's mother wore a peacock blue silk dress and Mrs. Thomas Masi of Mill Valley, the bridegroom's mother, wore a blue print. Both mothers had corsages of white orchids.

Janet was entertained at several pre-nuptial showers. One was given by Mrs. Theodore Werner Jr. of Burlingame at the home of her mother, Mrs. Orville Lymburner in San Rafael, and another was given by Karen O'Rourke at the home of her parents the James O'Rourkes in San Anselmo.

The newlyweds will live in an apartment in Manor.

Marin Women

GOP Women To Meet On Tuesday

The February luncheon meeting of the Marin Federation of Republican Women will be held at noon next Tuesday, Feb. 21, at the Tamalpais Woman's Club Center in Kentfield with Mrs. Matt A. Graham, president, presiding.

The widely publicized film "Operation Abolition" will be shown. This is the film of last May's rioting in and around San Francisco's City Hall during a hearing by the House Un-American Activitites Committee.

Fred G. Dupuis of Tiburon, who for nine years was a special agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, will comment on the film. He will be introduced by Mrs. J. Lee Chaille, vice president and program chairman.

Lunch is preceded by a "get-acquainted" half hour. All Republican women are invited to join in the group's activities. For reservations, contact Mrs. L. S. D'Anna, Mrs. James D. Cowie or Republican headquarters.

Further announcements will be made regarding the fashion show to be staged by the group at Bob's of Marin Restaurant in Corte Madera on March 1. Mrs. Harry Diner is fashion show chairman. Tickets have been mailed to members, however all Republican women are invited to attend. Those not on the mailing list may call Mrs. Diner or Republican headquarters, or, in Novato, Mrs. William Walker.

Auxiliary Elects New Officers

Installed by past president, Mrs. Carl Mead, were Mesdames Manuel Bernard, president; Richard Beedle, vice president; Henry Pierroz, secretary; Joseph Reeser, treasurer; and Roy Bernard, Marshal.

Appointed to various committees were Mesdames Ralph Jensen, James Mathews and Sam De Pillo, trustees; Milton Azevedo and Carl Mead, sunshine; Frank Christ, program; and Charles McCourtney, publicity.

Officers anod members presented the outgoing president, Mrs. Fred Roemer, with a gift in appreciation for a very successful year.

Tennis Club Plans Shipwreck Dance

Mill Valley Tennis Club members have been invited to "Join the Castaways on Shipwreck Island" at a dinner-dance following a shipwreck theme to be given on March 11 at the clubhouse.

"Poi juice" will be served from 6:30 to 8 p.m. before an 8 o'clock "Island Luau," and there will be dancing afterward to "modern native music."

Mr. and Mrs. William J. Hislop, social chairmen, are planning the party with the assistance of Messrs. and Mesdames Aubrey Harwood Jr., John Laurie, Robert Ryan, George Pritzker and Robert Seymour and Mrs. Sylvia MacCready.

Reservations are limited and are to be made by March 7 with the Hislops or Harwoods.

Ross, Marin Can Ill Afford To Lose Mayor Art Kanzee

When the pressure of "developers" made it evident that the Town of Ross needed to look carefully to its zoning, Mayor Art Kanzee cast his vote for hiring a professional planning consultant to draw a master plan.

When some residents complained the town should provide around-the clock police patrol, Mayor Kanzee called in one of the top police organizational experts in the nation—ex-Police Chief John D. Holstrom of Berkeley—for a survey and report that may prove a lasting monument to the mayor's foresight.

On his own initiative, Mayor Kanzee promoted an advisory committee to "feel the pulse of the town" and help the council, because "we as a council sometimes cannot see the forest for the trees."

This is the kind of farseeing leadership that Ross—and Marin County—lost through the unexpected death Sunday of Arthur Kanzee Jr.

Art Kanzee was not the loud pleader or the big stick wielder. He was ever the gentleman, good natured, patient, striving for what would be best for the town he loved. He would listen while others quarreled, then cut through the jungle of conflict a clear path toward the goal.

This is the kind of leader Ross, and Marin, can ill spare. His untimely passing of a heart attack will leave a void hard to fill. But the plans he laid and the paths he cut should benefit his town and county for many years to come.

Two Words For Two Men

We'd like to say two words to both the in-coming and out-going secretary-managers of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce.

Paul J. Richards comes into the post with a wide knowledge of the problems facing San Rafael and Marin County in general, knowledge amassed during 18 months as the city's assistant city manager.

Richard L. Shirley leaves the post after nearly five years of dedicated service to the community. There have been many changes in the city and county since 1956. He had a hand in making many of them for the good.

So as Paul Richards takes over the helm of the organization, and as Dick Shirley steps out again into the stream of the business world, we wish them both, Good Luck.

THREE MINUTES A DAY

By JAMES KELLER

PATIENCE CONQUERS A SNAKE

Waking up one morning with a copperhead curled up on his stomach, a 15-year-old boy from Virginia knew exactly what to do.

The snake—all 30 inches of him—had slithered up to the teen-ager who was sleeping on the lawn of his parents' house. The young man realized that a false move would mean a poisonous bite and probably death.

So he remained motionless as the minutes dragged slowly on. Finally, after 2 hours of anxious waiting, the serpent slid away. The boy grabbed the rifle lying beside him, took aim and shot the reptile.

Such heroic action results usually from a life of discipline and self-control.

You may never have occasion to meet this kind of emergency but your day-to-day decisions reflect your own attitude toward life. Prepare for any unexpected crisis by a wholehearted devotion to God and your fellow man.

"The love of Christ impels us."

Help me, O Lord, to use my mind, my heart and my energies to work untiringly for Your cause.

Oldtime Jack-Of-All-Trade Jobs Taken Over By The Housewives

NEW YORK (AP)— Whatever happened to the jack-of-all-trades?

In our pioneer past practically every frontier settler had to battle the wilderness almost singlehanded. He had to be a man of many talents to survive.

As time passed and our civilization grew more complex, the original pioneer American jack-of-all-trades tended to vanish from the scene. Men learned to specialize in a single craft or art.

But the tradition of the jack-of-all-trades endured and was kept alive by a new fellow on the scene — the general handy man.

The handy man wasn't exactly looked up to by his neighbors. He was characteristically a rugged individualist who didn't like the idea of settling down to one job or one boss—or even one wife.

But the general handy man was welcome in most households. His skills were needed. For a dollar or so, a meal or two, and maybe an old coat or pair of pants, he would cut the lawn, carry out the ashes, beat the rugs, fix a leaky roof or mend a drain pipe.

Whatever chore had to be done, he could find a way to do it. And he had one unbeatable virtue—it didn't cost much to hire him.

That old-fashioned type of handy man is almost impossible to find nowadays.

The new type of handy man is also difficult to find now—and he is a completely different kind of character. He is usually married, industrious, busy as a beehive — and almost as businesslike as a banker. In fact, he is a one-man industry.

An experienced general handy man can earn from $150 to $200 a week or more in some areas—and does.

His high cost and unavailability when needed in an emergency has resulted in the rise of a completely new jack-of-all-trades — the suburban housewife.

Necessity has made her a jill-of-all-trades.

IN AMERICA'S burgeoning suburbs today there are thousands of housewives who can outdo the pioneer mothers of yore in many ways.

BUT MANY OF them can handle minor plumbing jobs, put up wallpaper, paint a house, fix a broken vacuum cleaner, rewire a floor lamp—and do 1,001 other things necessary to keep a home in order.

Smart husbands encourage these new jills-of-all-trades to learn as many skills as possible. And for a very good reason.

Marin County took a final step in releasing itself from any obligation regarding Angel Island when the supervisors approved an agreement with the National Park Service to return maintenance to the federal government on return of the unused part of $12,000 maintenance fund put up by the Angel Island Foundation.

Six hundred inmates of San Quentin Prison donated 276 pints of blood for transfusions for wounded Americans in Korea.

Hospital Helps German Visitor

Independent-Journal:

We recently had such unusual service from Mr. Clem Miller, our Representative in Congress, that I would like all residents in this area to know how alert he is to the needs of the community.

Sometime back we had a Mrs. Johanna Tegaelers hospitalized at Marin General. Mrs. Tegaelers was in the United States on a visa from Germany visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Sgt. and Mrs. Michael Bradley, 442 Via Herbosa, Novato, California. Soon after arriving in this country she was taken seriously ill and required extensive surgery and hospitalization, resulting in medical expenses beyond her ability or the Bradleys' ability to pay.

Because Mrs. Tegaelers was a visitor we were unable to secure financial assistance for the Bradleys from the various agencies and societies which normally would help. However, Mrs. Tegaelers did receive replacements of blood by interested groups and individuals to cover the 29 pints used during her hospitalization, thus substantially reducing her hospital balance.

As a final measure we contacted Mr. Miller and, due to his understanding, perseverance and knowledge, financial aid was secured from Army Emergency Relief Headquarters. Through Mr. Miller's efforts the Bradleys have been relieved of their indebtedness and the community as a whole has benefited because Marin General Hospital is a tax-constructed hospital. But even more important is the fact that we have been able to further good will with another country.

San Geronimo Needs Gas

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I wish to call attention to the need of a gas supply line to San Geronimo Valley. We are growing rapidly out here and cannot afford to expand and improve unless we get the service the public needs.

There are over a thousand homes in the San Geronimo Valley at present. The proposition of using electricity alone is entirely too costly. During the winter months many people with very moderate incomes and large families are forced to spend from $40 to $60 per month for electricity for heat.

How long will the PG&E be allowed to stall on giving us this urgent service? We have for the last eight years requested the PG&E to give us gas service. All we get is a promise of "another two years." We cannot cook our meals or heat our homes with promises.

We naturally thought that when the Marin Board of Supervisors gave them a 99-year franchise to run their lines in Marin County for the development of the county as a whole, that they would do so. In the meantime we understand they have bought the Vallejo and Napa Valley light and power businesses and some other companies in order to effect their monopoly. The company also tried to get a 99-year franchise in Sonoma County, but the supervisors up there would not fall for their scheme.

Let us get action in Marin instead of promises all the time . . .

The supervisors should look into the matter, carry on an investigation and find out just why it is that we cannot get the service that we are willing and ready to pay for. Any action by the supervisors in this regard would be rendering a service to us here in San Geronimo Valley.

The sooner we can get actual results the better off we all will be.

Relax, Enjoy Hospital Quiet

Independent-Journal:

My advice to Mrs. Neese of San Anselmo, is to be glad she had a chance to relax while in the hospital, instead of entertaining a deluge of visitors.

When I had my third child in another hospital (not Marin General), my dear roommate was visited by her father, mother, husband, sister and her husband, aunts, uncles, cousins, grandparents and assorted in-laws.

On the day I delivered, she had seven visitors and the television set was blasting away. Truly a memorable experience!

Rules such as those concerning limiting visitors are made with the protection of the patient in mind.

Surely you can get by without seeing your "girl friends" for the two or three days you are confined. If necessary, you could phone them.

Nomination For I-J Newspaperboy

Independent-Journal:

If you are still selecting an I-J paper delivery boy of the year, my vote goes 100 per cent to Baine Brush. Never since I have been a subscriber, have I had a better paper boy.

He never misses a delivery, his paper is always well wrapped in wet weather and he is a courteous and thoroughly nice youngster.

Will Kennedy Be Showing Some Candor About Missile 'Gap' Facts?

WASHINGTON—It is poetic—and political—justice that the Republicans should have a jolly time in making all the capital they can out of the administration's "missile gaffe."

It will take a lot of doing before the Republican partisans equal the exaggerated talk of Democratic partisans during the past two years—talk about the "missile age," the "muscle lag," the "mental lag," and other cliches of "campaign oratory."

Where does the controversy now stand? I think about here:

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is taking a different position on the missile gap than Sen. Kennedy took in his campaign to become President.

As a candidate Kennedy was sure there was a missile gap, but as President he is not sure there is a missile gap. He urges the press and the public to reserve judgment as to whether there is or is not a missile gap until his officials at the Pentagon can take a longer look at everything.

We can all understand the alacrity with which the White House denied that a preliminary study indicated that no significant missile gap was developing.

But was this White House contention that the news reports were inaccurate, itself accurate? Here is an account of what the Pentagon says Secretary McNamara really emant in his briefing:

"BRIEFLY, THESE officials said that what the Secretary meant was that the study was not being approached with the idea of finding out whether there was or was not a 'missile gap,' but rather what the over-all strategic situation was, now and in the future. In that sense, is was explained, Mr. McNamara felt that the term 'missile gap' was irrelevant."

President Kennedy is certainly right in counseling against a premature judgment that there is no missile gap But I cannot escape the conviction, in reading the foregoing explanation of what McNamara meant, that top Pentagon authorities are finding their studies pointing to the conclusion that there is no grave missile gap in the making, but in terms of total deterrence, it is, to use their phrase, "irrelevant," and that in his briefing with correspondents the Defense Secretary either wisely or unwisely, intentionally or unintentionally, maturely or prematurely, said just about that and wishes he hadn't.

Kennedy has demonstrated commendable candor, almost zest, for reporting the bad news about the recession. It will be interesting to see whether he exhibits the same candor and zest in expounding the good news if in the end, the Pentagon finds, as did President Eisenhower, no significant or "relevant" missile gap.

'Exodus' Has 'Essential Verities' Of Actual Experience Of Marinites

From the hospitable peace of Marin County, four of us went the other night on a journey into a past filled with danger and hardship.

We were held together in a bond of shared knowledge of some of the human misery in other lands. But soon came a parting. For it was to be an evening centered on an instant in history well known to two of us, but only dimly apprehended by my wife and me.

The most lonely couple in the center of a crowded San Francisco theater that night were Capt. and Mrs. Adolph Sigmund Oko of Point Reyes Peninsula, who saw in the filming of "Exodus" some of their own soul-burning adventures in 1948 as master and purser respectively of the Panama-registered ship Kefalos.

THAT POOR OLD "rust-bucket" Kefalos under another name perhaps appeared that night upon the screen in one final dramatic glimpse.

In the midlst of our little party sat in spirit a fifth wandering Marinite, now exploring far ahead of us all. The late Milly Bennett of Mill Valley; China, Spain and the universe, in the days of her recent passing had brought us all together with still others of her myriad friends and it had been "Tiger" Thompson who sent our preview tickets.

JUST AS THE ANTIQUE freighter Exodus took its cargo of jam-packed, sick, scrawny and feverishly eager Jewish refugees to their bleak promised land of Israel, so did the Oko's ship Kefalos. It took, as a matter of fact, 7,737 within a single year, from Bakar on the Jugoslav coast to the Palestine harbor of Haifa.

Also within that year, the Kefalos carried to Isreal its biggest single shipment of arms. These went from Tampico, Mexico, to be stealthily removed during blackout of the port of Tel-Aviv and rushed to fighters of the Negev.

All these precarious voyages were under conditions of greatest risk and hardship. Every man's hand seemed against such undertakings linked to the birth of a new and none too widely wanted state.

Politically the thing was surely debatable, with issues such as Arab rights and sufferings, which are still far from settled. Nor was Britain's position simple. All were right and wrong, innocent and guilty.

But however confused and complex those days were, they gave great glimpses of the human spirit in every aspect.

WHAT A PITY that the elder Adolph Sigmund Oko, distinguished scholar of the philosopher Spinoza, had died five years before! Had Dr. Oko lived he would surely have found ample justification for his son's insistence on going to sea. Even men of vision can't see everything in the future.

Another matter was that of Gladys Oko; no Jew, her roots were in cool Norway rather than Russia. But this fine trained nurse, masquerading as purser, belonged in the adventure, too. A Norwegian Lutheran can not only share, but take leadership in deeds calling for mind, spirit, compassion, as she proved.

When a Spanish crewman asked Gladys off Tampico, if she wasn't afraid to set off for Israel on a ship crammed with arms, she merely retorted, "What is there to be afraid of?"

"The only requirement to land," says Oko, "was the desire to go."

OF COURSE Gladys was handsomely paid for what she did—a whole dollar a month! This sum accumulated through eight months and at the end of that time Gdays drew her $8 and squandered it on cognnac, consumed at a crew party in her honor at the port of Haifa.

The other night we quietly parted in Mill Valley and the Okos pushed on through the Marin night. We learned later that the mood took them to halt in San Anselmo. Again they bought cognac, and drank together to memories that will neved dim.

The evening stars are Venus and Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1862, the Monitor, first ironclad vessel of the U. S. Navy, was ready for sea duty.

In 1898, the battleship Maine was blown up in Havana harbor and 260 crew members were killed.

In 1918, Capt. Vernon Castle, partner in the world-famous dance team of Irene and Vernon Castle, was killed in an airplane accident in Texas.

A thought for today: English author Charles Dickens said: "Throughout life, our worst weaknesses and meannesses are usually committed for the sake of the people whom we most despise."

Marin Cats Win Prizes

Seven cats entered by Marin County residents scored major wins last weekend in the Contra Costa Cat Fanciers' third annual show in Richmond. All the Marin winners were domestic shorthairs.

Titus-Hercules, blue male owned by Mrs. Evelyn Kionig of Kentfield, was judged best open in the shorthair specialty. He also received the best domestic award in the shorthair judging. Mrs. Kionig's Tertitt-Tullemor, a smoke female, took the best domestic shorthair opposite sex award in the same competition.

Mrs. Cherie Weiss of Novato captured the best domestic award in all-breed competition with her Priscilla of Meow Meadows, a tortoiseshell-with-white female. Mrs. Weiss' golden-eyed white female, Lolita of Meow Meadows, was judged best white opposite sex.

Ch. Barefoot Contessa, champion brown tabby female owned by Mrs. Ralph McDonald of Novato, won the best domestic champion award in both the shorthair specialty and all-breed competitions. Winning the best domestic champion opposite sex awards in the same two competitions was Ch. Kendall, entered by Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Layman of Corte Madera. Their RichMar's Krashyi was judged best domestic kitten opposite sex. The Laymans' cats are male red tabbies.

OPENS TOMORROW—Nancy Kwan is the Eurasian beauty introduced in "The World of Suzie Wong," which stars William Holden as the artist tempted by the lady of very easy virtue. This Technicolor film opens tomorrow at the Tamalpais in San Anselmo.

IN A RAGE—William Holden bursts into anger in this scene from "The World of Suzie Wong"—anger at the young girl (Nancy Kwan) who moves in on his affections and working time.

GABLE'S LAST — Marilyn Monroe and Clark Gable are shown talking to Thelma Ritter in a scene from "The Misfits." This movie, set for the Rafael screen, was written by Arthur Miller, the famed playwright, and was Gable's last film. John Huston directed this story of a cowboy and a girl having a fling. Montgomery Clift also is in the cast.

HEAD THE CAST—Jack Lemmon and Ricky Nelson head the cast of "The Wackiest Ship in the Army," a brand-new comedy due in San Rafael late this month. It's about a hard-luck vessel manned by a crew of thorough incompetents assigned to a risky mission. John Lund, Tom Tully, Joby Baker, Warren Berlinger and Patricia Driscoll also are in the cast.

Marin Movie Houses Begin Longest Run Of Top Films

Marin movie houses are just beginning the "longest consecutive run of top films we have ever been able to get." according to Al Goodwin, Marin manager of Blumenfeld theaters.

Usually, the top films are "spaced out" with less popular pictures booked between. But this month, says Goodwin, eight top films will be in the county consecutively; he expects new attendance records will be set.

Here are the top eight:

"The World Of Suzie Wong (due at the Tamalpais theater in San Anselmo tomorrow, "Can Can," "Savage Innocents" (an excellent family picture), "The Misfits," Walt Disney's "Swiss Family Robinson" (due at the Rafael Feb. 26), "Wackiest Ship in the Army," "The Grass Is Greener" and "The Alamo." The latter, starring John Wayne, has been re-edited to cut down from its original four-hour length and the re-editing has improved it, Goodwin says.

He predicts that some of the top eight on this page will be nominated for various Academy Awards.

SET FOR SLAUGHTER—Cary Grant and Robert Mitchum are all set to slaughter each other in a new comedy, "The Grass Is Greener," which the Rafael Theater will be showing soon. Deborah Kerr (left) is pleading with Cary to show mercy while Jean Simmons (right) seems to wonder if the boys know what they're doing. It's in color and Technirama.

AN ARMFUL—Frank Sinatra in a scene from "Can Can" (in DeLuxe color) which comes soon to the Tamalpais Theater screen, gets an armful of Shirley MacLaine, one of the many beauties in the cast of this musical, which also stars Louis Jourdan and Maurice Chevalier.

FOR THE FAMILY—Anthony Quinn stars in a new Paramount release for the "family trade." It's titled "The Savage Innocents" and co-stars Yoko Tani. It's in Technirama and Technicolor. The Eskimo beauties seem to be getting a good deal of fun out of the normally serious Mr. Quinn and his baby seal.

CASTAWAY—Kevin Corcoran is one of the youngsters in Walt Disney's Panavision, color version of the classic "Swiss Family Robinson." It's all about a family cast away on a desert island and forced to cope with pirates as well as wild animals. John Mills, Dorothy McGuire and Tommy Kirk also are in the cast.

Drag Strips For Hot Rod Racing Approved If Properly Supervised

Should we build drag strips for our young people? Here's a girl who thinks so.

"I'm 16," she writes. "I helped my boy friend build his hot rod. He loves that car more than life itself. Now it is ready and he has no safe place to use it. We have no drag strip, so he races the other kids on public highways. It won't be his fault if somebody gets killed.

"A drag strip should be provided for us, shouldn't it?"

Thanks for writing. You clearly express a feeling shared by many hot rod enthusiasts. Drag strips are being debated all over the country.

Do you mind if I criticize. You excuse racing on public highways. You assume that a boy with a hot rod has a right to risk killing innocent people, to say nothing of himself. Please try to see that you are wrong. Racing is a privilege, not a right. No one has the right to take chances with human lives. Those who assume they do have such a right should be restricted.

Nevertheless, I agree with your main idea. Our communities spend thousands of dollars to provide facilities for Little League ball players, boating enthusiasts, football fans and other sports-minded people. I think we might well build properly located drag strips for hot rodders.

The strips should be closely supervised by strict officials. The young people who use them should earn the right to race by careful driving on the streets and highways. Reckless kids should be barred. In that way a drag strip could contribute to public safety.

Strips are expensive. They aren't financed overnight, nor built quickly. You should plan on a long campaign. Get your parents to help you. Community leaders will be more apt to listen to them than to you.

READER'S FORUM

(Q) "My son wants to join a car club. It is sponsored by our church, and supervised by a high school auto shop teacher. Are car clubs safe?"

MRS. R. O.

(A) The good ones are. They contribute to good citizenship, and careful driving. You can rely on a car club sponsored by a church and supervised by an auto shop teacher. Beware of the unsponsored, unsupervised car clubs because they can cause all sorts of trouble.

Budget Due Terra Linda Discussion

A preliminary 1961-62 budget, believed to indicate a 65-cent tax rate, will be presented to the directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District at 8 o'clock tonight in the Bernard Hoffman School.

Director Richard Less and Controller Arnold Brown have predicted a 30-cent drop from the current tax rate of 95 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

Included in the budget discussion tonight, according to director Robert Brownne will be possibility of hiring one or two paid firemen, purchasing of new 1,000 gallon pumper truck and expanding the fire house to hold the truck.

The department now has two fire trucks, which were paid off within the last three months, and one paid member, Fire Chief Richard Flaherty.

A new director is expected to be appointed tonight to replace former president Joseph R. Gunn III, who left for a new job in Afghanistan last month. The term extends to April, 1962.

Plans for permanent maintenance of Manuel Freitas Parkway, including weed control and painting of the wooden fence along the north side, will also be discussed.

Trial Is Slated In Marriage Row

A San Francisco civil engineer, who is alleged to have married two women under two different names, pleaded innocent yesterday in Marin Superior Court to a bigamy charge.

Richard Taylor Wilcox, 30, also known as Richard William Taylor, asked for a jury trial. Judge Richard M. Sims Jr. set the trial for April 4, 5 and 6.

The two women, who live in Marin, gave this account of the tangled marital affairs of Wilcox:

They told Asst. Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales that Wilcox, while separated from his first wife, married No. 2 before he was divorced from No. 1. Then he separated from No. 2, and made plans for a wedding to No. 3. That wedding announcement went to No. 1. "This was the last straw," wife No. 1 told Bales.

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Television May Aid State Fire-Fighters

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's future forest fire spotters may spend their whole day watching television.

The State Division of Forestry, working with the U. S. Forest Service, has been investigating some futuristic devices to locate and fight costly fires.

Among the devices is an infra-red detection system, sensitive to heat rays, to initially "find" the fire and touch off a warning bell at the nearest ranger headquarters.

He would then summon firefighters armed with chemicals and powerful devices for spreading them.

Clint Phillips, coordinator of fire-fighting research for the division, says it is just a matter of time before these things are developed.

"The potential is very great," he says.

First results were discouraging: the infra-red system was too sensitive, picking up even cigarette smoke, and the TV wasn't sensitive enough, giving blurred pictures.

The division has been working with private industry to perfect the television cameras and hopes to get positive results soon. TV would be used both in the air and on the ground.

Also high on the research priority are improved chemicals for fighting fires and advanced systems to spread them.

Forestry's present chemical warfare is limited mainly to borate bombers, surplus military planes which drop a fire-smothering borate solution on blazing forests.

Another is ammonium phosphate now widely used as a fertilizer.

United Nations Film Planned

The Marin County Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations will show a United Nations film, "Overture," hear a talk on Cuba by a recent visitor, and elect officers and board members at its annual membership meeting Friday at 8 p.m. in Alexander Hall of San Francisco Theological Seminary, San Anselmo.

Mrs. Marguerite Edises of Mill Valley will tell her experiences during her recent visit to Cuba. The title of her talk is "I Went to Cuba for Christmas."

Refreshments will be served. The meeting will be open to the public.

Hamilton Chaplains Have Mission To Serve Fliers, Their Families

BY PAUL MILLER

Hamilton Air Force Base has enough chaplains to make up the crew of a B-52 bomber plus a couple of passengers.

However, the mission of an Air Force chaplain is not flying, but to minister to those who fly or who are otherwise directly involved in the defense of the free world. The chaplain's ministry also includes the families of these defenders.

Among the eight Hamilton chaplains are a former book editor and writer, a "leatherneck," and an Army combat infantryman. The other five, by profession have always been preachers.

The senior chaplain at Hamilton is, paradoxically, the newest arrival. He is Lt. Col. William Woods. A Roman Catholic, Woods serves Mass at the base chapel but is actually an administrator. He is the new staff chaplain for the 28th Air Division of the Air Defense Command.

Father Woods arrived recently at the base to replace Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Marvin O. Gardner, who however, will not leave until next month. Chaplain Gardner has been at the Novato air base for four and one-half years. Before becoming division chaplain two years ago, he was base chaplain. He is a native of Alabama. A Southern Baptist and has had more than 18 years of active military service. His new assignment is in Korea.

Chaplain Woods' stay will be short. He will retire from the Air Force and plans to reside in Oakland his birthplace. He was stationed at Hamilton once before during his nearly 20 years of service. Before coming to Marin for the second time, Chaplain Woods was stationed at a base in Tripoli on the coast of Libya.

As staff chaplain, he is responsible for the chaplains and their programs of all air bases and radar sites under the Air Defense Command in California and Nevada..

The rest of the chaplains are under Base Chaplain (Maj.) Charles C. Sturdy, who is chaplain of the 78th Fighter Interceptor Wing as well. He has been at the Marin installation since last July, coming here from Goose Bay, Labrador.

Major Sturdy was a chaplain in the European Theater during World War II, after which he became a civilian pastor at the Pilgrim Church in Fitchburg, Mass. At the outset of the Korean War, Rev. Sturdy was recalled to military duty and sent to Iwakuni, Japan. He commuted between Japan and Korea to minister.

Chaplain Sturdy is responsible for the smooth operation of a base program that includes four Masses, four Protestant services and a Sunday school of some 500 pupils each Sunday.

Chaplain Sturdy and his crew counsel with an average of 275 airmen, officers and dependents every week. Four times a year the chaplains give a series of what used to be called "character guidance lectures." Now they are referred to as "dynamics of moral leadership" addresses. This instruction is mandatory for Air Force personnel up to and including lieutenants and colonels, said the base chaplain.

In addition to these programs and hospital, home and prison visitations chaplains from Hamilton conduct all Air Force funerals at Golden Gate National Cemetery in San Bruno and Presidio National Cemetery, San Francisco. Also Chaplain Sturdy must provide the division with chaplains from the 78th Fighter Wing to conduct services on a monthly basis at four radar sites in California and three in Nevada.

Other chaplains in the Wing are Captains Edward Lawler, Laurence H. Withington, Delford J. Kalal and Joseph W. Bridgen.

The eighth chaplaincy has been temporarily vacant but is to be filled by Maj. Leonard Bruce, a Methodist, who has been serving as a chaplain since 1943.

Captain Lawler has been in Marin since October, and like Staff Chaplain Woods, has old friends in the Bay Area. After he was ordained at St. Paul's College in Washington, D.C. in 1944, Rev. Lawler was the first director of Old St. Mary's in San Francisco where he stayed until 1951 He entered the Air Force during the Korean War and served six and one-half years, much of it in Seoul, Korea. Then, as a member of the Catholic Order of Paulist Fathers, Chaplain Lawler served as book editor of the Paulist Press in New York, where he was reared. He also wrote religious pamphlets and for Catholic periodicals, and is a graduate of the Institute of Book Publishers at New York University. Last fall the Air Force was short of Roman Catholic chaplains, and because of his former experience, Captain Lawler was recalled.

"To be back in Marin is almost like being home again," he said.

Captain Withington, a Presbyterian, has been at Hamilton for two years, and this month is at an Air Force marriage counseling school at the University of Texas in Austin. Chaplain Withington, in addition to conducting services and regular counseling, is chaplain for the base stockade (prison). He and Chaplain Kalal and their families reside in Novato.

Captain Kalal is the wing's Lutheran chaplain and conducts a special Lutheran service and Communion at the base chapel at 8:30 a.m. Sundays. He also conducts regularly scheduled services at radar sites. He has been stationed at Hamilton since last August.

Chaplain Kalal joined the Marine Corps when he was 17. The following year, 1943, he was in combat with the Second Marin Air Wing on Okinawa and other islands in the Pacific. He was discharged as a technical sergeant in 1945 and became an Air Force chaplain after receiving his bachelor of divinity degree at Wartburg Seminary in Dubuque, Iowa.

Before coming to Hamilton last May, Captain Bridgen was with the Third Air Force at Croughton Air Base, north of Oxford, England. Like Chaplain Kalal, Bridgen was an enlisted man (buck sergeant) and was in combat. He served in the Europeon Theater with the 76th Infantry Division of the Third Army as the squad leader of a machine gun company. Bridgen is a Methodist and has been in the Air Force since he received his bachelor of divinity degree from Asbury College in Wilmore, Kan., in 1950.

Convict Faces Longer Sentence

San Quentin convict Alvin Vernon Marshall, 25, faces an additional one to 10 years in prison for the fatal knifing of a fellow inmate in the prison yard last July.

Paul Lujan, 23, died from stab wounds after a fight with Marshall. He was in prison for assault with a deadly weapon.

Judge N. Charles Brusatori of Marin Superior Court sentenced Marshall yesterday for voluntary manslaughter. Maximum sentence is 10 years. This will run consecutively to the term he is now serving for first degree robbery and assault with a deadly weapon.

Prison officials found a sharpened knife and a sharply honed screwdriver at the the scene of the fight. Witnesses said both men were armed during the struggle.

NOTICE OF SALE
PRELIMINARY LOAN NOTES
OF THE REDEVELOPMENT AGENCY OF THE COUNTY OF MARIN

February 15, 1961

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the above-identified local public body corporate (hereinafter called the "Local Public Agency") at the Administration Building in the City of Marin City, Calif., until, and publicly opened at one o'clock, P.M., Eastern Standard Time, on February 28, 1961 for the purchase of $1,325,000 of notes of the Local Public Agency to be known as "Preliminary Loan Notes (Second Series, A)," being issued to aid in financing its Urban Renewal Project, designated Project No. Calif. R-8. The United States of America, acting by and through the Housing and Home Finance Agency, has agreed to make a loan under Title I of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1450 et seq.), to the Local Public Agency to assist the latter in undertaking and carrying out such Project. By authority of said Act and with the agreement of the Local Public Agency, the said Notes are to be unconditionally secured as to the payment of both principal and interest by the United States of America in the manner set forth herein.

THE NOTES will be dated March 21, 1961, will be payable to bearer on March 23, 1962, will bear interest from their date to their maturity at the rate or rates per annum fixed in the proposal or proposals accepted for the purchase of such Notes, will be issued in such denominations, and both principal and interest thereof will be payable at such incorporated Bank having trust powers or incorporated Trust Company, as the purchaser designates in the proposal. Such Bank or Trust Company must be a member of the Federal Reserve System, or of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and must have an unimpaired capital and surplus of not less than the aggregate principal amount of Notes designated in the proposal or proposals submitted by the purchaser; provided, however, that such unimpaired capital and surplus need not exceed One Million Dollars. The Notes will provide that they are not valid until after such Bank or Trust Company has signed the agreement, appearing on each Note, to act as paying agent. The Notes will be transmitted to such Bank or Trust Company for delivery to the purchaser upon receipt and disbursement by such Bank or Trust Company of the purchase price thereof in accordance with instructions from the Local Public Agency. After taking delivery of the Notes, the purchaser shall obtain the signature of such Bank or Trust Company upon the Notes as aforesaid. All fees or charges, if any, of such Bank or Trust Company shall be paid by such purchaser.

SAID NOTES will be special obligations of the Local Public Agency and will be secured by a requisition agreement between the Local Public Agency and the United States of America under the terms of which agreement the United States of America agrees to lend the Local Public Agency prior to the maturity of said Notes an amount sufficient to pay the principal and interest of all said Notes and agrees to cause so much of the proceeds of such loan as shall be sufficient to pay the principal of and interest upon any of said Notes to be deposited at the respective Bank or Trust Company at which said Notes are payable for the benefit of the holder or holders thereof. Under the proceedings authorizing said Notes, the proceeds of such loan payment will be irrevocably pledged first to the payment, at maturity, of the principal of and interest on said Notes.

THE VALIDITY of the Preliminary Loan Notes and of said requisition agreement will be approved by Orrick, Dahlquist, Herrington & Sutcliffe, and such attorney's opinion will be furnished to the successful purchaser without charge.

ALL PROPOSALS for the purchase of said Notes shall be submitted in a form approved by the Local Public Agency and shall be enclosed in a sealed envelope, addressed to the Local Public Agency, which should be marked on the outside "Proposal for Preliminary Loan Notes." Copies of such form of proposal may be obtained from the Local Public Agency at the address indicated above. Proposals may be submitted subject to completion pursuant to telegraphic instructions which must be received by the Local Public Agency at or before the time above specified for the opening of proposals. In view of certain statutory and policy limitations, no award of the Notes will be made at an interest rate per annum which is not less than three and one-half per centum (3½%).

PROPOSALS may be for all or any part of the Notes, and separate proposals will be required for each part of said Notes for which a separate interest rate is bid. Said Notes will be awarded at the lowest interest rate or rates offered in the proposals, without reference to premium; provided, however, that, as among proposals specifying the same lowest interest rate, award will be made on the basis of the highest premium per dollar principal amount of Notes specified in such proposals. No bid for less than $50,000 principal amount of said Notes or for less than par and accrued interest (which interest shall be computed on a 360-day basis) will be entertained, and the Local Public Agency reserves the right to award to any bidder all or any part of the Notes which such bidder offers to purchase in his proposal, upon the basis of such proposal; provided, that if less than $50,000 principal amount of Notes is to be awarded to any bidder, such bidder will be relieved of the obligation to purchase such Notes upon written notice to the Local Public Agency within two days after notification of such proposed award. If only a part of the Notes bid for in a proposal are awarded by the Local Public Agency, the premium, if any, offered in such proposal shall be prorated, and said Notes will be issued in denominations in the order of the lowest denominations specified in such proposal; provided that one Note may be issued in a smaller denomination than is otherwise specified. The further right is reserved to reject any or all proposals.

SECTION 102(g) of the Housing Act of 1949, as amended (42 U.S.C. 1452), provides as follows: "Obligations, including interest thereon, issued by local public agencies for projects assisted pursuant to this title, and income derived by such agencies from such projects, shall be exempt from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States." In the event that prior to the delivery of any of the Notes to the successful bidder therefor the income received by private holders from obligations of the same type and character shall be taxable by the terms of any Federal income tax law hereafter enacted, the successful bidder may, at his election, be relieved of his obligations under the contract to purchase said Notes.

We can see it in your eyes . . . you're tired of looking for a recently-built home . . . with a little character and individuality in location. You want convenience, but a 2 bedroom cottage won't fit your brood.

We're enthusiastic about this big new home with large kitchen, electric stove and oven, uncountable cabinets and good eating space. Let's not forget the separate dining room and the view living room with brick fireplace. Outside, you'll find 2 of the newest patios you've seen in a house under the luxury price range. Not too much maintenance, and more than enough privacy. Because it has very little competition in the area this will sell quickly! Maybe it would be best to phone right now while you are still thinking about it. Excellent financing available!

Cerebral Palsy Drive Called Successful

The January "March on Cerebral Palsy" was highly successful, Mrs. William B. Hickman, president of United Cerebral Palsy of Marin, announced today. The total of $6,557 collected was $1,807 more than last year's figure of $4,750.

More funds were collected in Terra Linda than in any other single area of the county, according to the campaign results reported by Mrs. Hickman. This section's total was $852, or $251 more than last year.

Novato was second with $732, Tiburon and Belvedere third with $532, and Marinwood fourth with $510.

In addition to the funds collected by volunteers during a house-to-house canvass, $755 in special gifts has been received to date, Mrs. Hickman announced. This makes a total of $7,312 received so far during 1961 for the local chapter of United Cerebral Palsy.

Officials of the organization are now working on plans for a new college scholarship program and will announce details shortly, Mrs. Hickman said. Two $500 scholarships will be offered to handicapped students who plan to study in the field of special education.

Purchase of special equipment for cerebral palsied children is part of the local chapter's program, according to Mrs. Hickman. At a recent meeting, the board of directors approved the start of an "equipment pool" for young serebral palsy victims. As an example, she said, a special walker will be purchased for a pupil at Marindale School. It will be loaned to the child for as long as it is needed and then returned to the school for use by other children.

Police Classes Being Held In Mill Valley

Instructed by officer Dan Terzich and Capt. Joe Canet, the classes are open to the city's 15 men in the reserve plus members of the auxiliary force who wish to attend, said Police Chief James B. McGowan.

Hours are from 8 to 10 p.m. today, Friday, and Monday and Thursday of next week. Classes are in the city council chambers.

Annexation Due Panel Discussion

Proposed annexation of Terra Linda to San Rafael will be discussed on radio station KTIM "Sounding Board" tomorrow from 9 to 10 a.m., according to Kitty Oppenheimer, moderator of the program.

Speaking in favor of annexation will be Joe Shipman and Newton Stearns; opposing annexation will be Mrs. William Munson and Donald Black. Mayor John F. McInnis will state San Rafael's position on the subject.

Questions telephoned to KTIM during the broadcast will be presented to the panelists. The program will be heard again Sunday at 12:30 p.m. via tape-recording.

Nearly 176 million gallons of liquefied petroleum was marketed in Arkansas last year.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Certain Education Expenses Deductible

By PETER J. WIKEL, CPA

Expenses for education are deductible if you qualify.

The regulations apply to self-employed persons as well as to teachers and other employees.

Peter J. Wikel

Expenses for education are deductible if such education is undertaken primarily for the purpose of (a) maintaining or improving skills required by the taxpayer in the performance of the duties of his employment when the education expense was incurred, or (b) meeting express requirements of the taxpayer's employer, or the requirements of applicable law or regulations, imposed as a condition for the retention by the taxpayer of his salary, status, or employment.

On the other hand, expenditures for education are not deductible if the primary purpose for which the education is undertaken is to obtain a new position or a substantial advancement in position or is the fulfilling of the general educational aspirations or other personal purpose of the taxpayer.

Moreover, in any case, if the education is required in order for the taxpayer to meet the minimum requirements for qualification or establishment in his intended trade or business or specialty, the expense of such education is not deductible.

Aboard Carrier

Marine Pfc. Vincent J. Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent J. Frank Jr., of 408 Pine Street, Mill Valley, is serving with the Marine detachment aboard the aircraft carrier Hancock, operating with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific.
